*The long and winding road that leads to my door
will never disappear
I've seen that road before*

The long and winding road . . . as the class of '78, the twentieth graduating class of Glendora High School, we have traveled it together and reached many milestones on our way. Now we pause at the crossroads and reflect on the faces and experiences that made this a time to remember. In the 1978 Bellendaine we attempt to capture this year's highlights of the journey on the long and winding road.

*Yes, there are two paths you can go by
but in the long run,
there's still time
to change
the road you're on.*

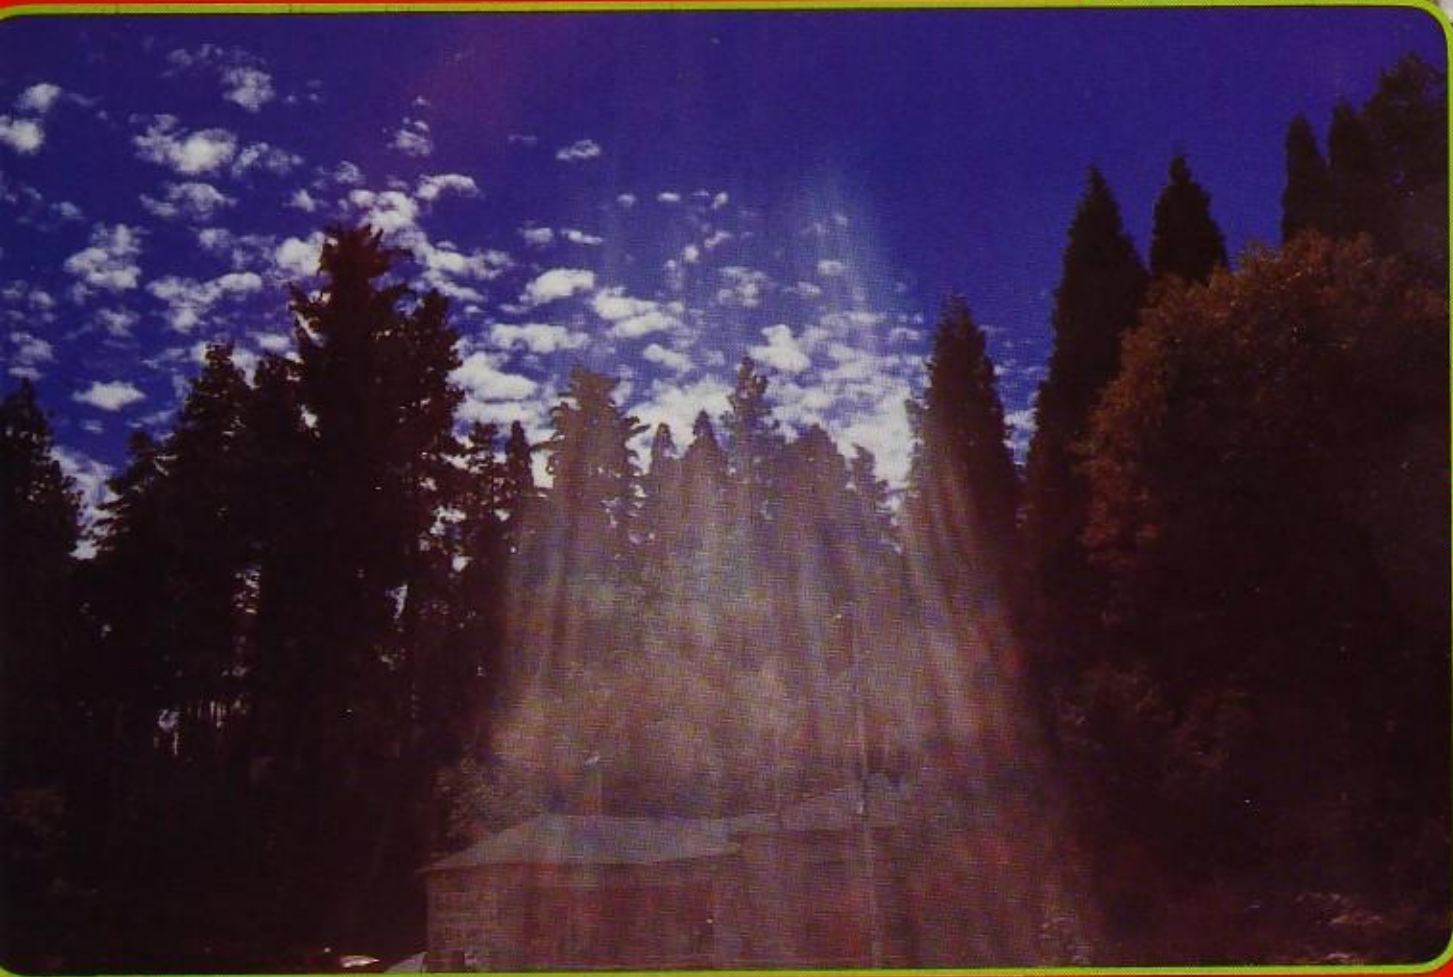

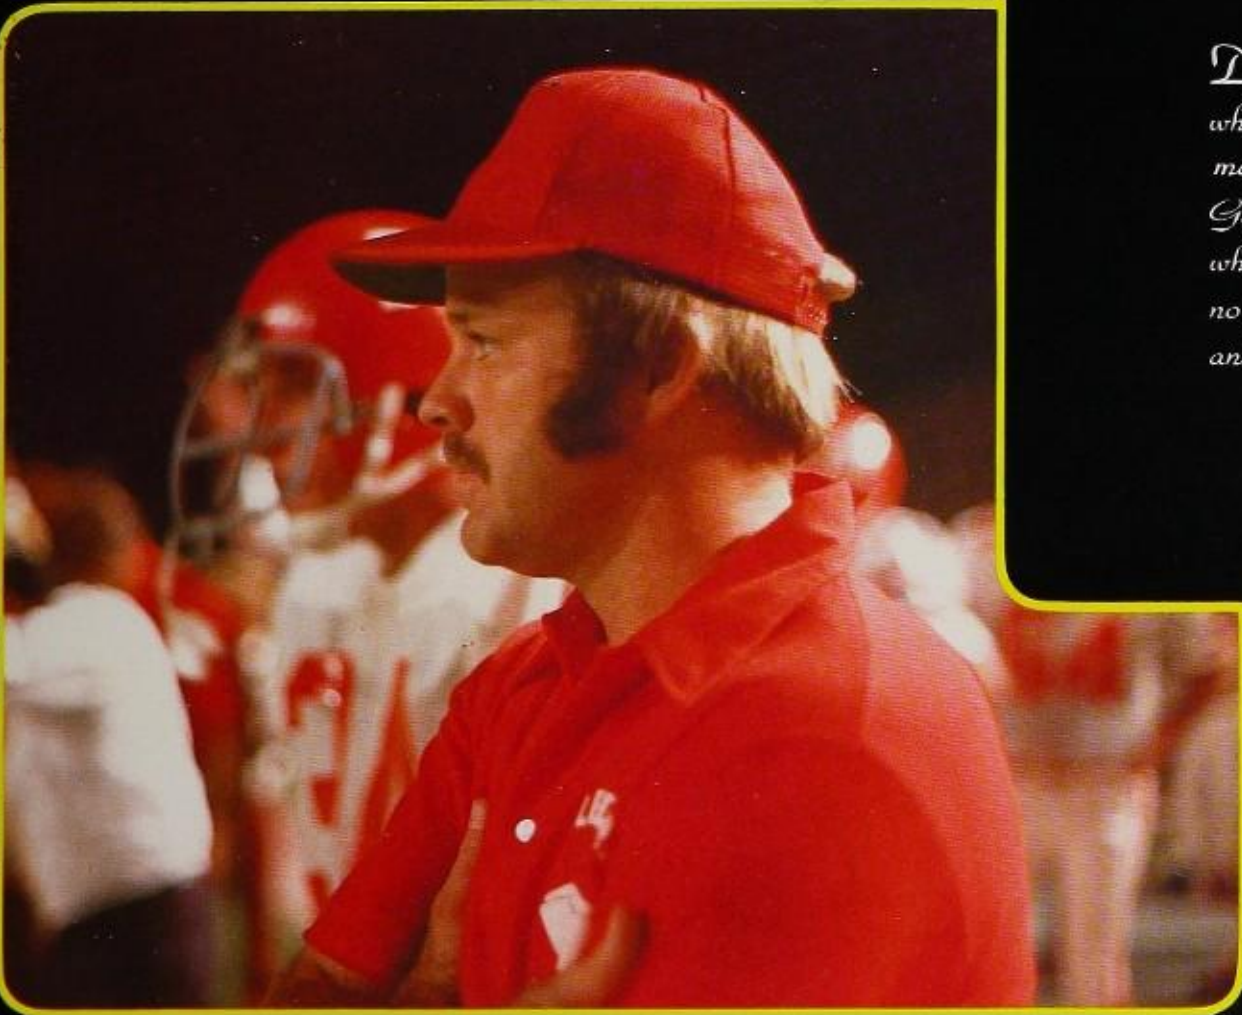

*So put me
on a highway and show me
a sign,
And take it
to the limit
one more time.*

*Do not follow
where the path
may lead.
Go, instead,
where there is no path
and leave a trail.*

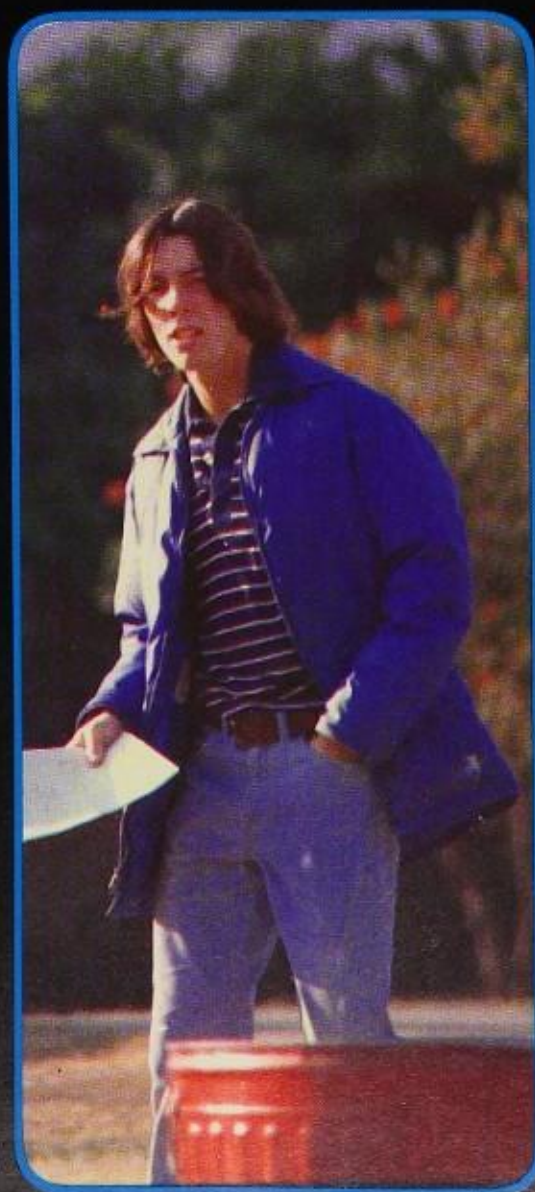

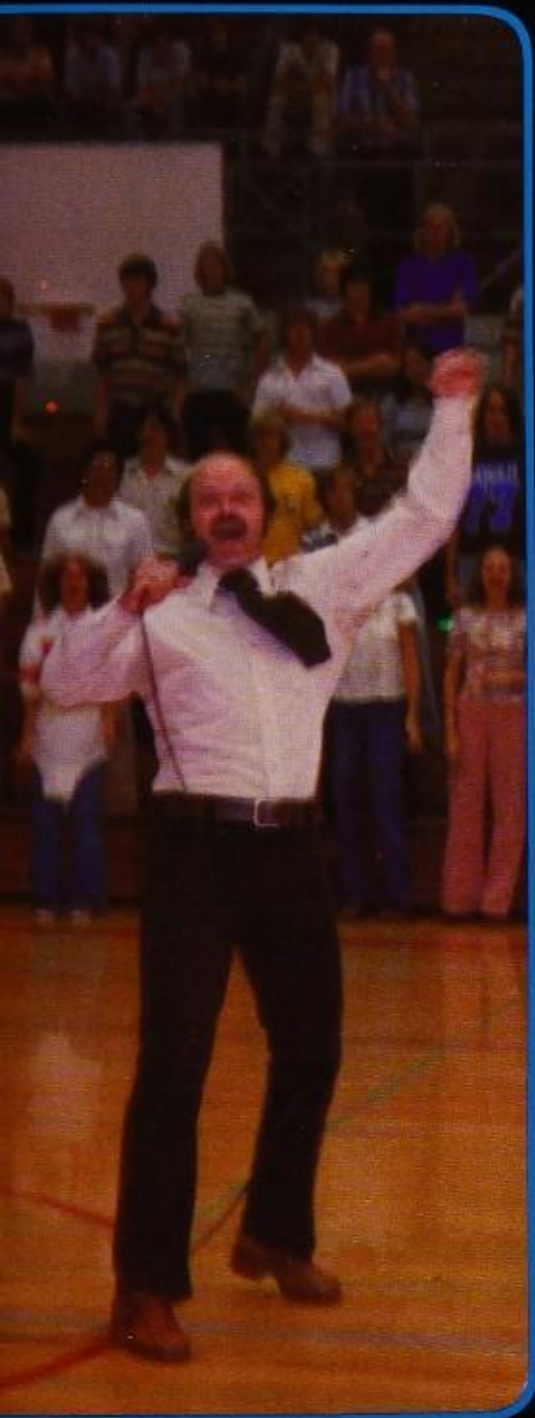

*So many roads
to choose,
we start out walking and learn to run.*

*Man cannot discover new oceans
unless he has the courage to lose sight
of the shore.*

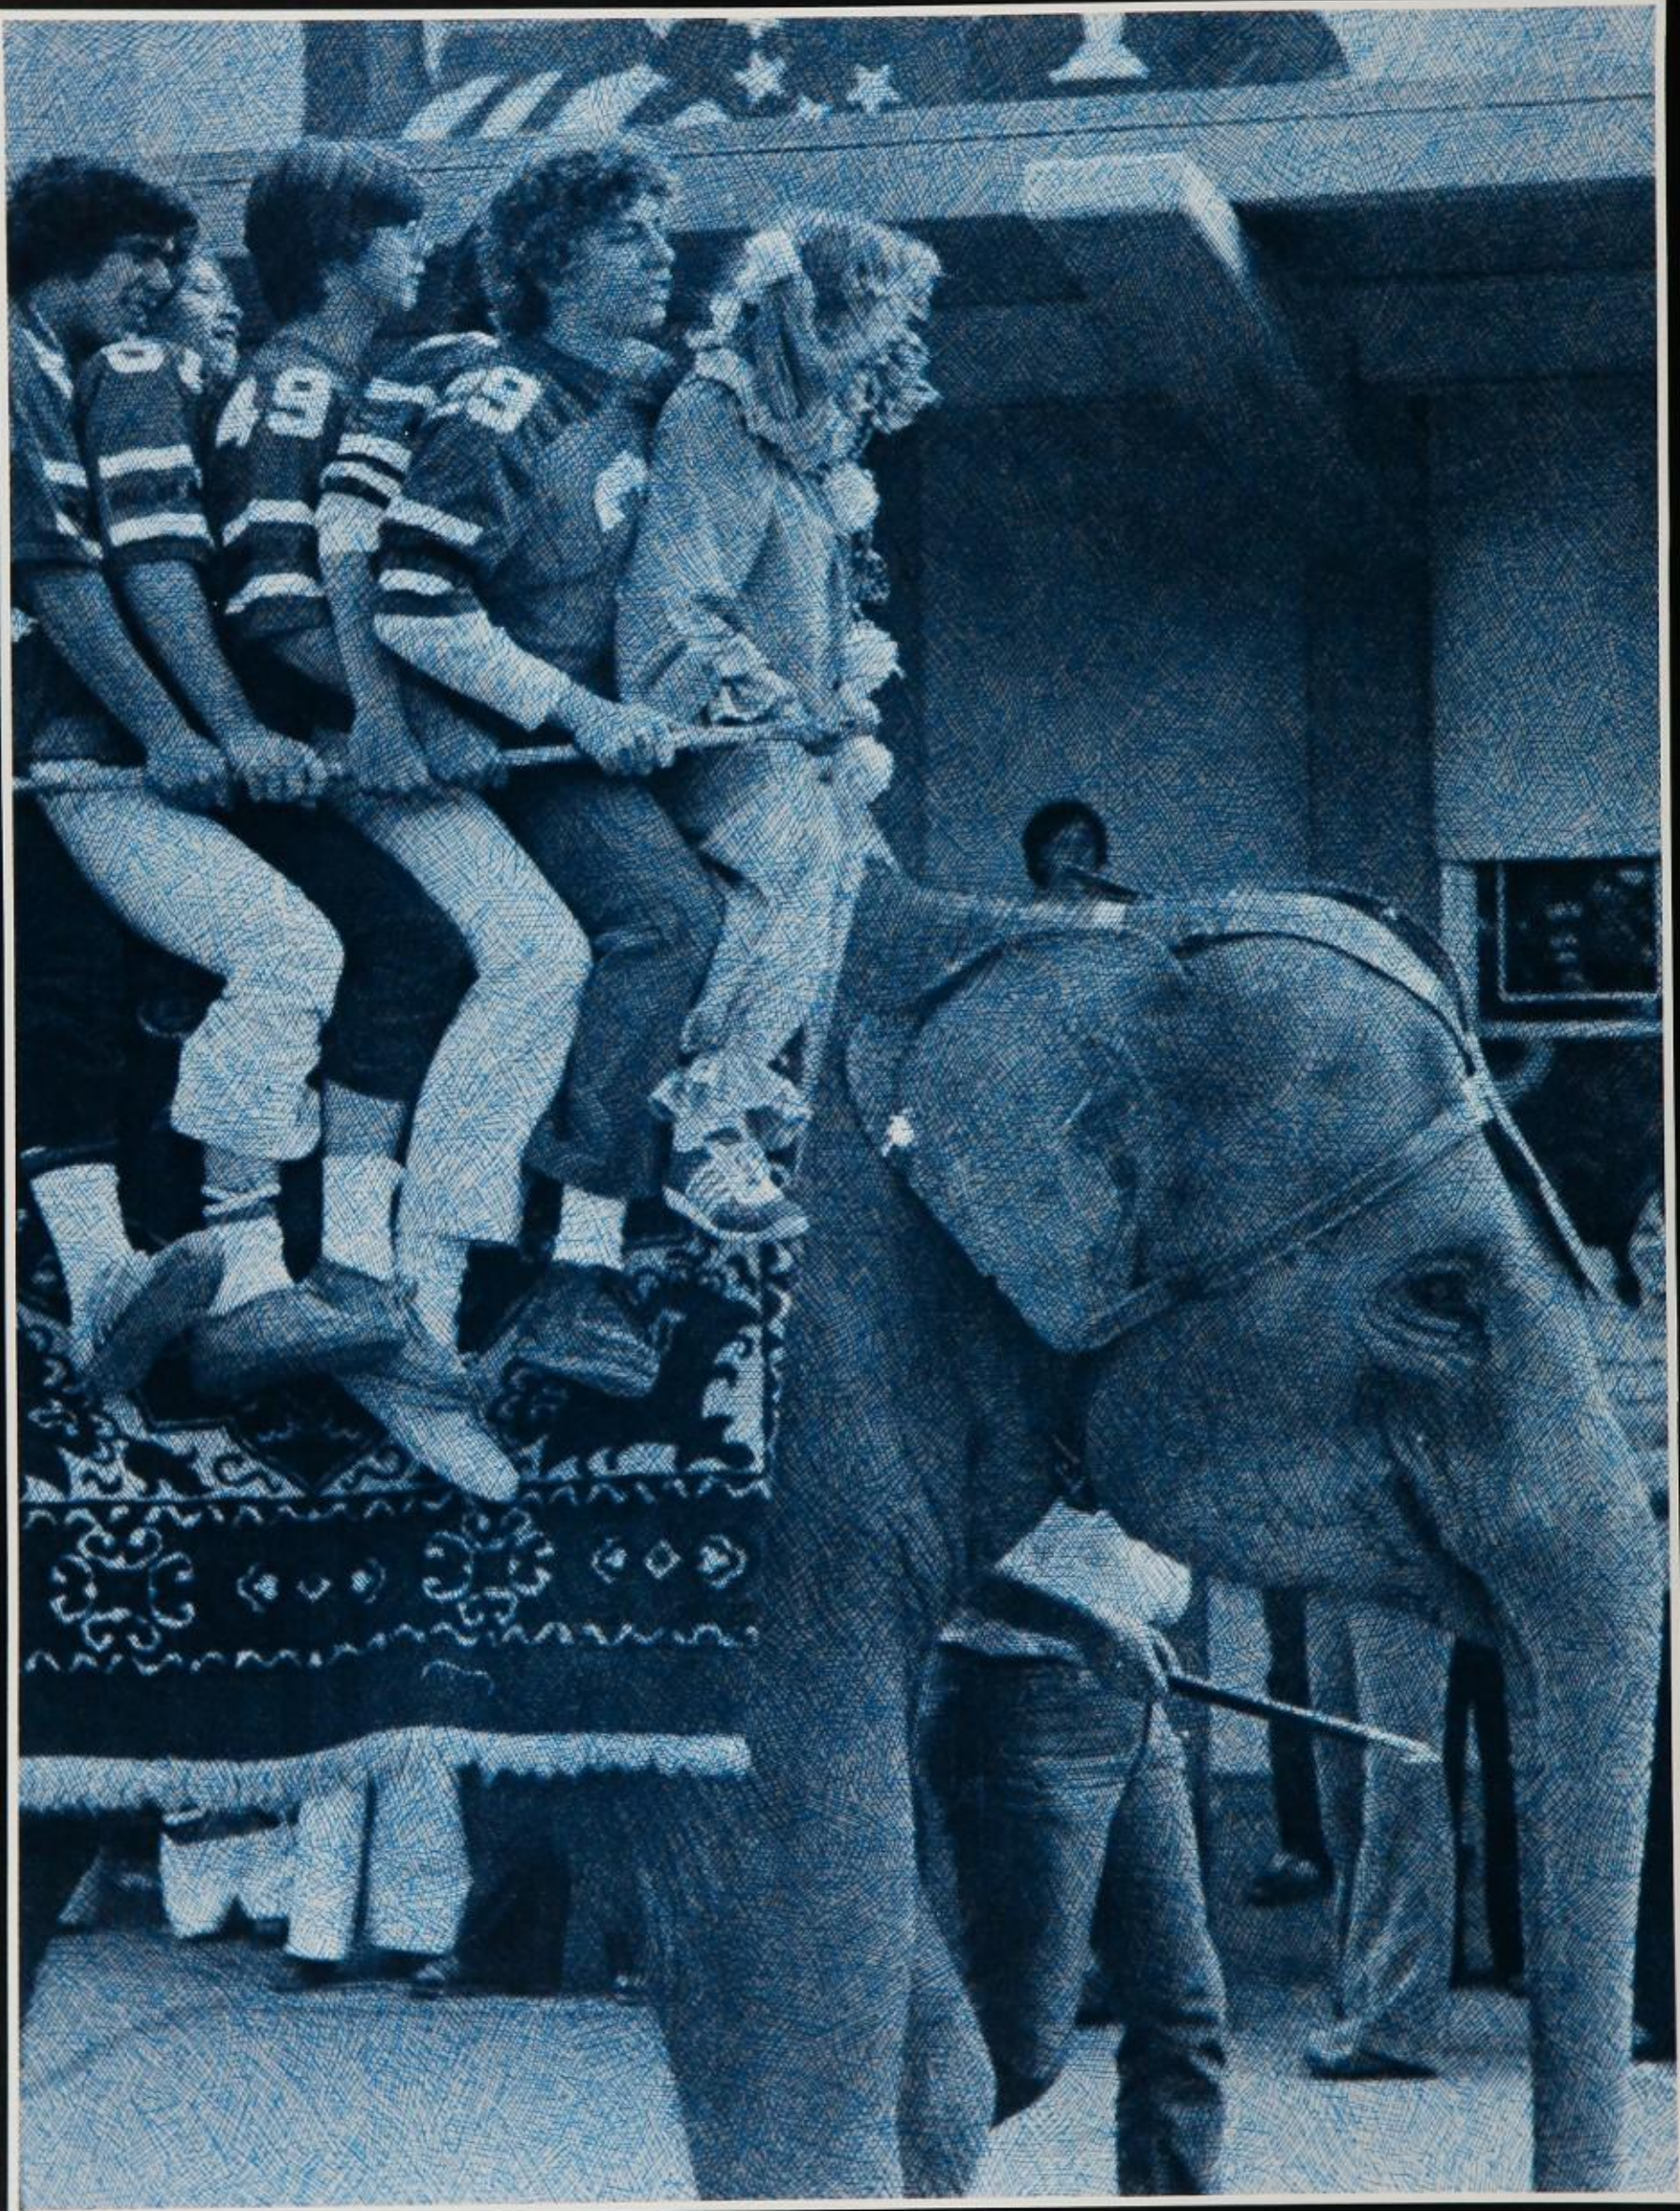

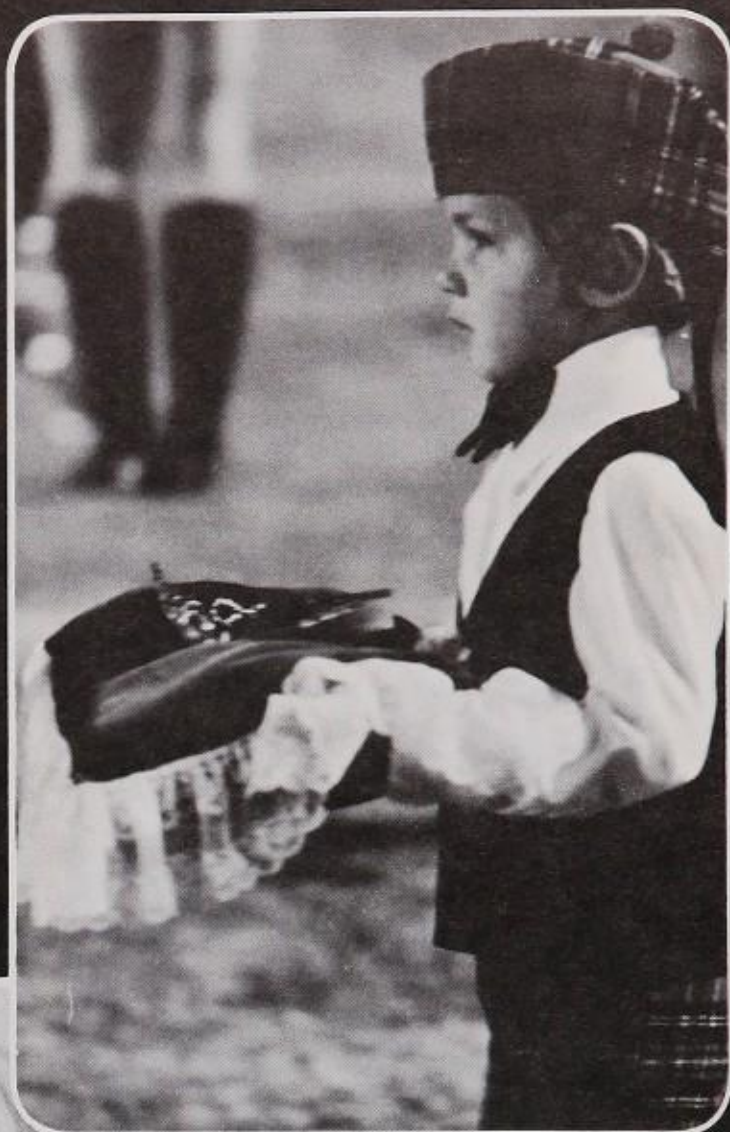

*Many times
I've been alone
and many times
I've cried,
Any way
you'll never know
the many braves
I've tried,
and still they lead me back to that long winding road . . .*

EXPERIENCES

1. Primo sets up and tests their equipment for the concert at lunch. 2. As they race towards sure victory, seniors Adrian Vasquez and Alan Toffoli exhibit their winning driving techniques in the 'Great Race.' 3. Bruce Reigner, senior, downs a banana split as a hungry crowd cheers him on. 4. An enthusiastic Howdy assembly group is led in Coach Shaw's traditional 'Go Big Red' yell. 5. Friendly Howdy Court members include Front row, left to right: Sandy Westlake — Howdy Queen, Linda Kemby, Carolyn Beck, Leslie Hummel, Chun Mae Wang and Chrystal Samosa. Back row, left to right: Pete Watkins — Howdy King, Brad Sago, Jeff Janes, Dan Debin, Marc Bevilaqua and Jaime Tamayo. 6. Juniors, with their secret weapons at the back, get ready to pull their way to victory with sheer brute strength in the Tug-of-War.

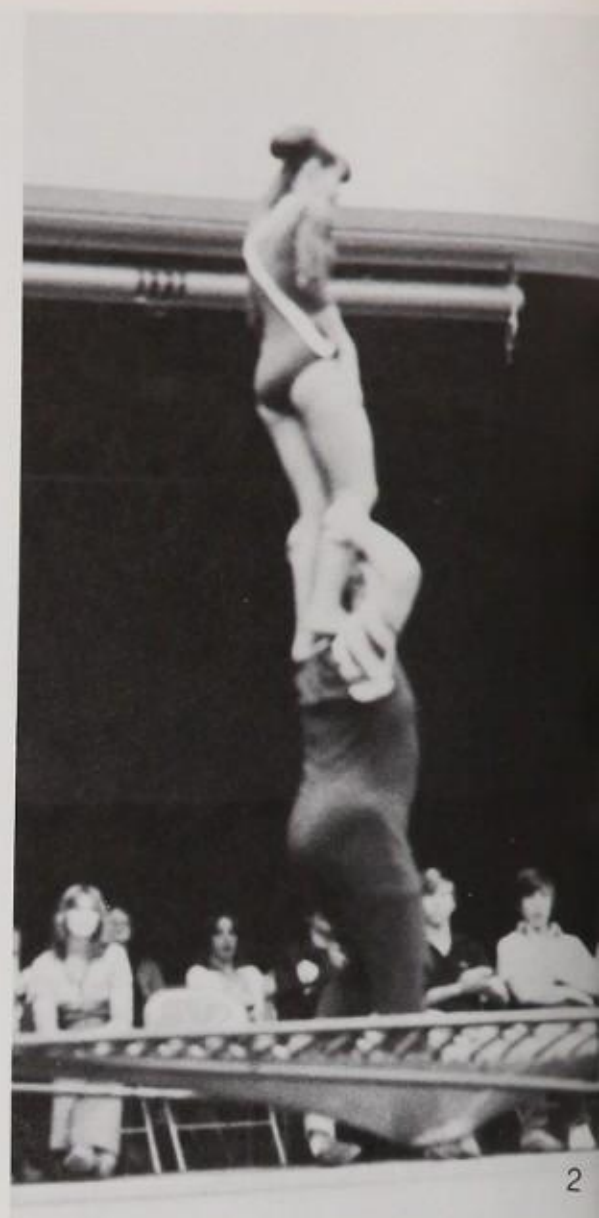

Endless hours of summer cruising and beach going came to an end Monday, September 12, as Tartans began the journey into another school year. Howdy Week, traditionally, worked to bring new and returning students together through a variety of activities.

Activities were judged with the winning class getting a plaque on the Spirit Chart. Juniors proved victorious in the Tug-of-War. Then the seniors peddled their way to a win in the 'Great Race' with the assistance of Adrian Vasquez and Alan Toffoli. The seniors came through again as they ate their way to triumph in the Banana Split Eating Contest.

Voting took place in third period classes for the Howdy Court to reign over the Howdy Hop Friday night. Primo provided the music for the Pep Club sponsored dance. Friday ended a successful week with the Howdy assembly, where groups were introduced and everyone was officially welcomed back to school.

1. Two clowns ride the elephants in the parade. 2. Judy Johnson performs several difficult stunts to the amazement of the crowd. 3. The Holy Triumvirate receive an ovation for their magnificent acrobatic routine during the assembly. 4. It takes three Pep Club members to peddle their way down Glendora Avenue in true circus spirit. 5. The Tams float 'Come and See the Show' glides down the parade route proudly proclaiming the Sweepstakes award. 6. It's a pachyderm's delight to participate in the homecoming festivities with clowns and football players alike.

"It was one of the most successful weeks we've had in years. Everyone came to the activities and enjoyed dressing up," remarked Mr. Richard Farland about the 1977 Homecoming Week.

With a theme of 'Let the Sideshow Begin' the week's activities were circus oriented. World famous trampolinist Judy Johnson performed Monday at lunch to an enthusiastic crowd. Seniors, Mike Daly and Jim Walker, provided sportsmanlike entertainment during the Pillow Fight at lunch, Tuesday. Creativity was the name of the game for Wednesday as the lunchtime activity was doing clown-face make-up on a friend's face.

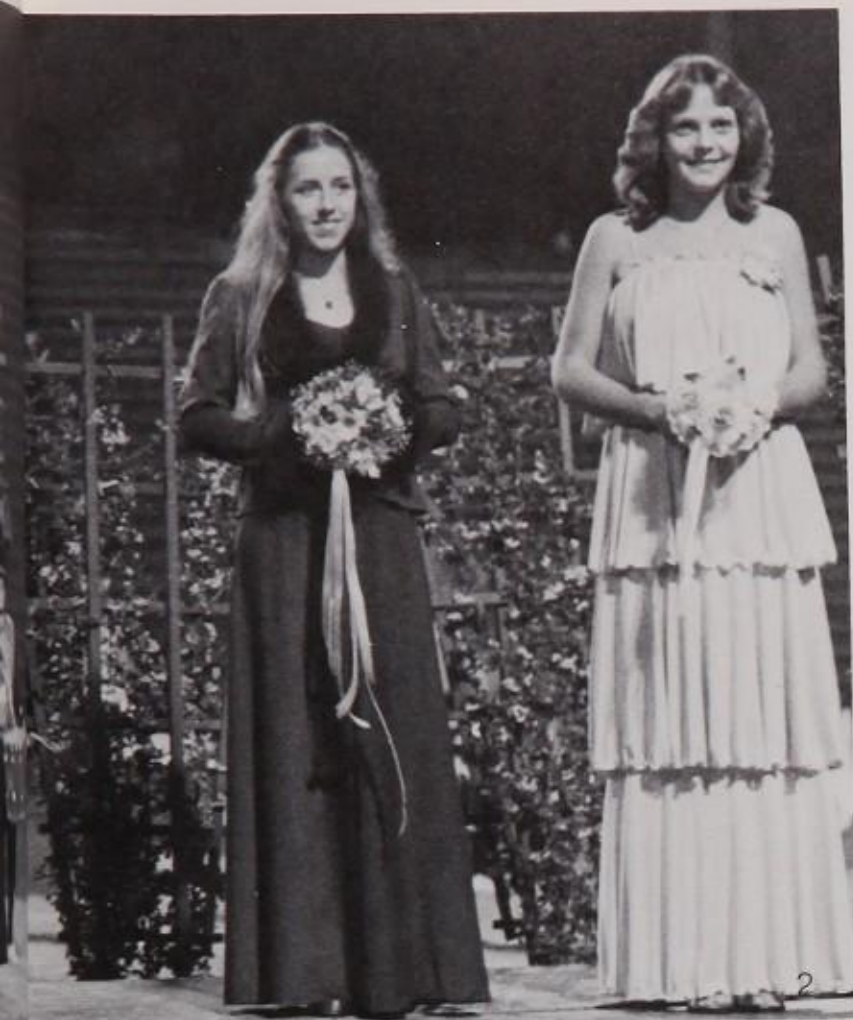

Thursday was the highlight of the week. The Homecoming assembly was a great success, with the best yet to come. Around lunchtime three precocious pachyderms pounded the pavement around the campus, as newspaper and television reporters abounded. The afternoon brought the annual parade downtown with Mr. Stan Sidaris and Mr. Richard Farland as Grand Marshalls, and several floats and many clowns invading Glendora Avenue.

1. Future Tartans relax after they helped present the roses and crown during halftime. 2. The Homecoming Court, Dawn Herrick, Kendra Mastain, Kim Schlessinger, Linda Kemby, and Sheryl Hawblitzel, anxiously awaits the crowning of the queen during the halftime ceremony. 3. Sheryl and her escort, Kevin Sampson, enjoy the Saturday night dance sponsored by Girls' Athletic League. 4. Sheryl Hawblitzel sheds tears of joy as she is crowned 1977 Homecoming Queen by past Queen, Kathie Peters. 5. Escorted by her proud father, Queen Sheryl leads the princesses through the archway. 6. Couples enjoy four hours of dancing to the music of Balboa.

"I felt honored. It was so special, the most special thing that had ever happened to me," exclaimed Sheryl Hawblitzel after being crowned

Home-coming

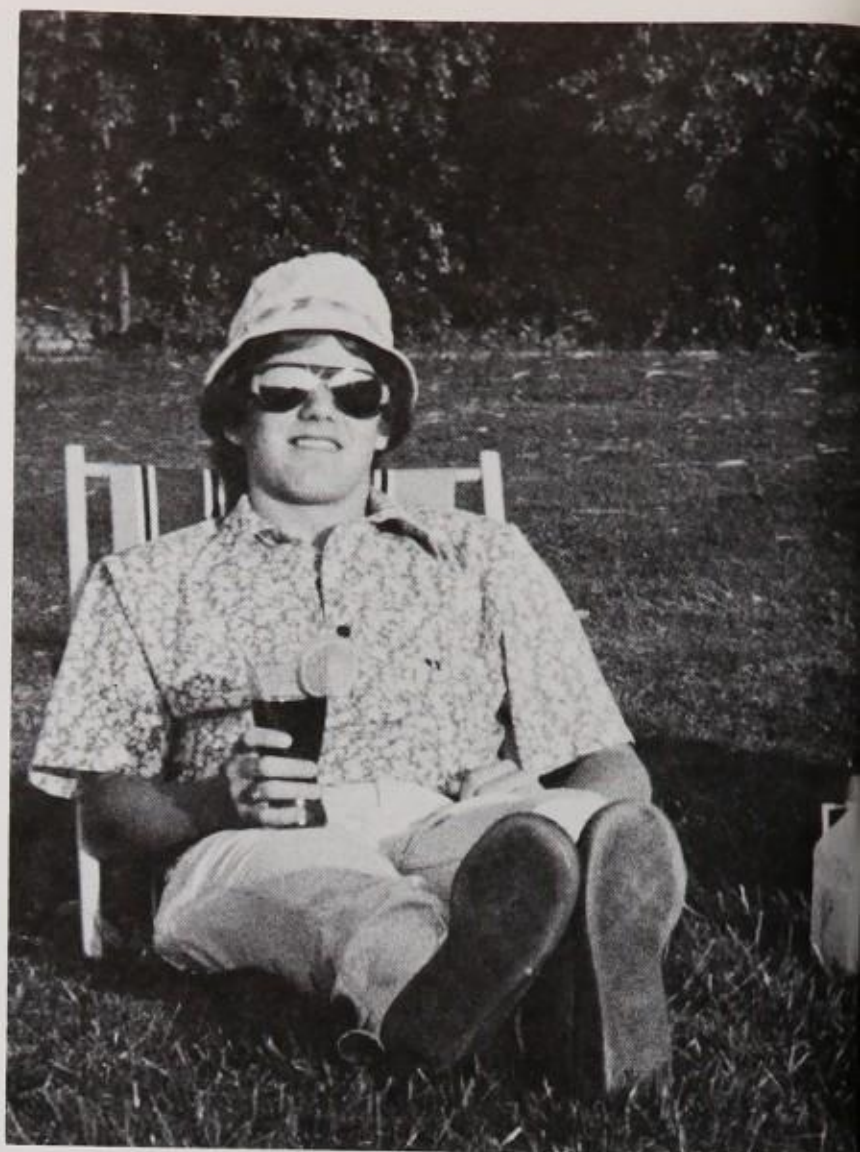

Queen on October 27 at Citrus Stadium.

Red roses were presented to the crowned Sheryl followed by the traditional sword dance performed by the Drill Team. Sheryl and her princesses, Dawn Herrick, Kendra Mastain, Kim Schlessinger and Linda Kemby, proceeded through the archway escorted by their proud fathers.

The Homecoming Court reigned over the Saturday night dance in the GHS gym. "Let the Side Show Begin" was the theme of the Girls' Athletic League sponsored dance. Couples enjoyed the music of Balboa during the evening.

1. New food lines provide a different lunch menu. 2, 3. Jog-A-Thon spectators relax as they watch the many Tartans "sweat it out." 4. Socialist speaker, Neil Chertcoff, presents his views on a better society. 5. During the Howdy Assembly, teachers display their better side in a "Hello Cheer."

Fall brought many changes and events involving students in both school activities and national political affairs.

"On your mark, get set, go." Runners who participated in GHS's first Jog-A-Thon were able to earn money for their club. After an hour of running, jogging or walking, the participants were tired, but wealthy. Even the spectators walked away with smiles on their faces, agreeing that the Jog-A-Thon was a successful event.

Teachers and students showed an increased amount of spirit and involvement in activities. During the Howdy Assembly, five teachers represented the faculty in their "Hello Cheer." Screeching firetrucks, paramedics and an ambulance attracted students to a very successful pep rally for the South Hills confrontation. The student body became involved in school politics by voicing unhappiness with the shortened lunch and absence of passing music. A hot food line was installed which offered students a wider variety for lunch. Some remarked, "that Commie" after a socialist speaker exposed government students to his ideas of socialism.

Winter kept Tartans busy with activities. An overcrowded gym of students and parents cheered as the Dodgers set down their baseball gear and picked up the basketballs in the Dodgers vs. Faculty basketball game. Welfare Week was a success

as Girls' League and their helpers earned $800 for City of Hope. Week long activities added to the holiday spirit. Mr. Griffith provided his winning profile during the Santa Claus face contest. The traditional Christmas assembly revealed the Senior class as having collected the most money, while the choir provided a Christmas atmosphere. Art Pasimio, Robert Marick, Steve Jennings and Jeff Murphy were honored as Mr. Mistletoe for their loyalty to GHS. Paula Staschke, Sue Teeple, and Cathie Cox received Girl of the Month awards for October, November and December. January brought hypnotists George and Joyce Sharp. Acts ranging from belly dancing to ear wiggling were demonstrated in "The Gong Show" hosted by Tom Ross, senior, impersonating Chuck Barris. One of the show's highlights was when several of the hypnotized males participated in a Homecoming Queen contest and told of their qualifications as to why they should be selected.

"You Light Up My Life" lent a sentimental

theme, while San Dimas Civic Auditorium provided the setting for the annual Christmas dance sponsored by Key Club.

Couples danced and enjoyed the music of the Whizz Kids, but the highlight of the evening came with the crowning of Queen Julie Pyscher. Julie was chosen by Key Club from a court including Princesses Joanne Arsenault, Connie Brown, Lori Martyns, Sandy Westlake, and Key Club Sweetheart Linda Kemby.

1. One Tartan coed is surprised to find a large build up of hailstones on her car. 2. Stunt men fight to the finish during a lunchtime performance. 3. ROP students help to dig up the ground during re-landscaping. 4. Rain sings tunes from the Beatles at their concert. 5. Sophomores Jim Brown and Richard Sandell get ready for the ice-push event in Almost Anything Goes.

As Tartans turned away from the old 1977, they looked toward the new — as did the weather. The worst drought in recent California history ended with torrential rain, and lots of it. Although the weather kept everyone wet, it didn't dampen the schedule of activities.

Aggressions Week brought back the almost-lost tradition of the student-teacher pie throw. Students were outraged by the talk of the Soviet Speaker at an educational assembly. Amazement met students at lunch one Friday when the shots of a professional stunt group could be heard throughout the campus. A special CIF assembly was in order to introduce the Soccer team, with a soccer-crazed student body cheering the Sierra League champs to victory later that day. Under the direction of Robert Marick and the ASB cabinet, a very successful Almost Anything Goes competition was held in the gym, March 4. Teams from Damien/St. Lucy's, Royal Oak, Charter Oak, and GHS vied for the title. March 10 brought back the Beatle group, Rain, to the pleasure of their fans.

The crowning of Jim

Spriggs and Tracy Steiner highlighted the 1978 Valentine's Dance, "You're in My Heart." The dance was held at Mount San Antonio College on February 18 from 8 p.m. until midnight. The band, Mainstreet, provided the music for this special occasion.

Other couples chosen for the Valentine's Court were: Jim Walker and Debi Brumfield, Jay Bogert and Jill Farr, and Mike Jean and Mary Spengler. Jeff Merrick and Terri Glaze were also on the court but were unable to attend the dance.

INVOLVEMENT

The purpose of the American Field Service Club is to bring people of different cultures

and lifestyles together to learn more about one another. This year GHS had as its guest Gerlinde Peter from Germany and Sergio Rasenti from Uruguay. Last summer, Charlene Underhill and Brian Regele also had the opportunity to travel abroad.

Charlene, who traveled to Sri Lanka, attended school and trained a drill team. Brian visited medieval castles and beautiful green forests during his stay in Germany.

AFS students had an unexpected surprise when Lupe Lemus, AFS student at GHS two years ago, returned to visit in the fall.

Another highlight of the year was AFS International Weekend where several GHS students hosted foreign exchange students from all around the world. Other activities included a beach party, AFS Day at the L.A. County Fair, a hiking day at Mt. Baldy, and an AFS Christmas party.

Meetings were held on Mondays, Wednesdays, and Fridays at lunch. On Mondays there was usually a guest speaker present. On Wednesdays, Howe Brown, from Calvary Chapel, provided music and discussion. Fridays were open for a time of sharing and discussion among members of the club.

During the year the club sponsored a band called "Promise" to play at lunch. The club also held candy and bake sales throughout the year.

Officers of the club included: Rick Andrade, president; Dave Bianchi, vice-president; Donna Morris, secretary; Sandi Brown, treasurer; Dawn Jackson, public relations; Jeff Lynn and Diane Gould, social committee. The advisors were Mr. Jim Clark, Mr. Arlan Dwyer, and Mr. Harry Smith.

Forensics at GHS was quite active this year. Both a club (National Forensics League) and a class (Advanced Oral Communications), students in the program competed both at home and at tournaments everywhere from Las Vegas to Sacramento and beyond.

The team had numerous successes at these competitions and qualified several people to go to the State Tournament in Fresno. One of the most successful of the Forensic students was Dave Hill who won several first place trophies. His most profitable triumph was when he won $200 for himself and $200 for the speech program at the Bill of Rights Tournament. He also qualified for the State Tournament with his speech on being left-handed. At that tournament, the whole team showed its expertise by winning the Sweepstakes trophy. John Duran also brought home several awards as a result of his skill shown in the Humorous Interpretation.

The "77-78" theater season at GHS was one of the most

ever. The Thespian club brought in record breaking attendance at several performances. Productions of "The Matchmaker" and "Flowers for Algernon" sold out for all performance dates. The final show of the year was the musical "South Pacific" performed with the assistance of the music department.

As one of the most active clubs on campus, recognition comes from constant work and improvement. This year, Thespians painted their theatre and dressing rooms and purchased new lighting along with extensive audio equipment. They traveled as a club to see several professional plays. They also held several potluck dinners.

Thespians is an International Society. All Thespians must earn points performing and working on productions in order to become a Thespian and remain one.

In the beginning, Brad Sago, Peter Watkins and Mark Herringshaw were sitting in the park eating peanut butter sandwiches. Suddenly a dove with a piece of paper in its mouth flew down onto Peter's shoulder. A movie projector wheeled in just as a marching band came by. As the movie started up, a choir began oowing in the background. The misty presentation which was shown on a screen suspended in mid air gave the three instructions concerning the organization T.H.E.M.

T.H.E.M. is a very unusual club whose main goals are to make people smile, serve the school and community and to bring others the divine knowledge to worry less about what others think and more about having fun. This is a good practice and will bring great happiness. The advisor of the club was Mr. John Saunders, the Pedagogical Pundit.

The Regional Occupational Program

was a program which students participated in to gain experience and knowledge of the vocation of their choice. Students attended classes at such places as Montgomery Wards, Sears, Travel agencies and banks. Dental assisting was also available. Some 140 students participated in ROP this year and Mrs. Sami Lau commented "It's the largest we've ever been."

ROP began in 1972 and has been a popular class at Glendora High. Senior Cindy Evers commented, "I got myself a job and I learned a lot from it."

The radio club this year met on Thursdays to work on plans of having a radio station on campus in which students could communicate as far as Japan. The club was advised by Mr. Harry Smith.

The Tartan Pre-School

this year was under the direction of Mrs. Anita Hauger. Students could participate and observe in teaching pre-school children. The class was held third and fourth periods every day. The pre-school children attended the class Tuesday through Thursday. On the days the children were not present, Glendora High students planned various games and activities for the children. A Halloween party was held and the children "Trick-or-Treated" to various counselor offices and classrooms. During Christmas, the students taught the children carols and the children went caroling around campus. Senior Donna Brisco commented, "It's a fun class, and I learned a lot about understanding children."

1. The pre-school children enjoy snacks prepared by the GHS students. 2. Nine of the children on Valentine's Day display their creations. 3. Students read stories to the children at storytime. 4. Donna Brisco sings a song with the children. 5. The children learn various finger plays.

Skiing in Utah opened up the season for sixteen members of the Ski Club.

The skiers spent December 17 through the 23rd skiing at the resorts of Alta, Park City, and Snow Bird.

Poor snow conditions disrupted the Ski Club's trips to the local resorts at the start of the season, but the skiers had the opportunity to attend trips to more distant resorts. These trips were to Mammoth, Utah, and Tahoe.

"I am very happy that the club has increased its membership, and we have had many more trips this year," commented Dennis Cavanaugh, assistant advisor.

1. Mr. Larry Johnson, advisor, prepares for a ski trip. 2. Sheryl Shirley, Ski Club president, spends time on the slopes. 3. Laura Futerman is Secretary-Treasurer. 4. With the start of a new year and the assistance of a new advisor, this year's Bellendaine staff started out with anticipation

and determination to make an interesting and memorable yearbook. Staff members worked hard in order to meet their deadlines.

Many hours were spent outside the classroom taking pictures, drawing layouts, and writing copy. Toni Kelley and Linda Zappe served as editors and assisted staff members when problems arose.

This year the yearbook sales were held October 18-21. The price was $12 which included a supplement. Make-up sales were held March 1-2.

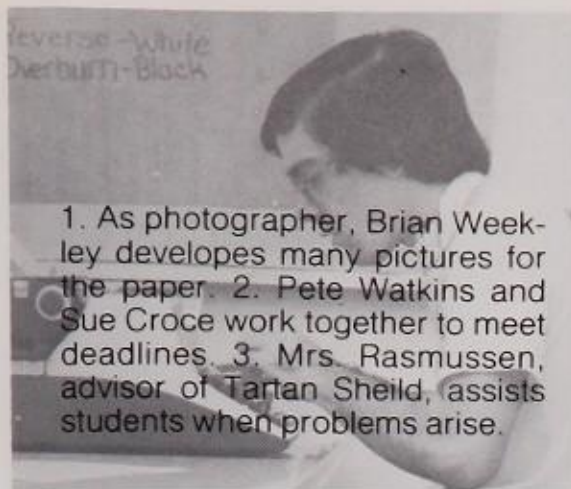

On Halloween, the staff was treated to a specially decorated layer cake homemade by Mr. Lusk, yearbook advisor. In January, the staff enjoyed a delicious breakfast which was also a special treat prepared by Mr. Lusk. At the end of the year a banquet was held for the entire staff.

1. As photographer, Brian Weekley develops many pictures for the paper. 2. Pete Watkins and Sue Croce work together to meet deadlines. 3. Mrs. Rasmussen, advisor of Tartan Shield, assists students when problems arise.

The Tartan Shield underwent many changes this past year.

The format was altered, the issues bigger and more graphic and the stories were better than ever. The Tartan Shield was published once each month, with eight pages of important, topical stories and information.

Each issue was the culmination of four weeks of diligent work by the staff members. The advanced journalism class met fourth period each day and began the machinations of each issue. The constant deadlines were always pressuring the staff members to work fast.

Several staff members spent an average of four hours each issue at the Courier Graphics in Claremont, where the paper is printed, making last minute changes and finishing the paste-up. Those days were usually filled with frenzied rushing and hurried work to meet that final deadline.

Brian Brooks, editor, and his staff, along with Mrs. Pat Rasmussen, advisor, made the Tartan Shield more interesting and more topical than it had ever been before.

"The flow of unique ideas from the girls in Pep Club never ceases to amaze me. It's a part of high school I'll always remember!" commented Songleader Karen Hoy.

The Pep Club attended a summer cheerleading camp in Santa Barbara where they received the "Spirit Stick" three times. Receiving the stick on the last day of camp won them the honor of taking it home.

A certain and special type of friendship develops with other people when you're thrown together and you must all work toward the same goal," stated

Songleader, Carolyn Beck.

Promoting school unity and spirit, along with giving equal support to both boys and girls, were the goals which the Songleaders worked to achieve.

Performing at summer cheerleading camp in Santa Barbara, the squad placed second out of 35 squads. The individual routines placed first.

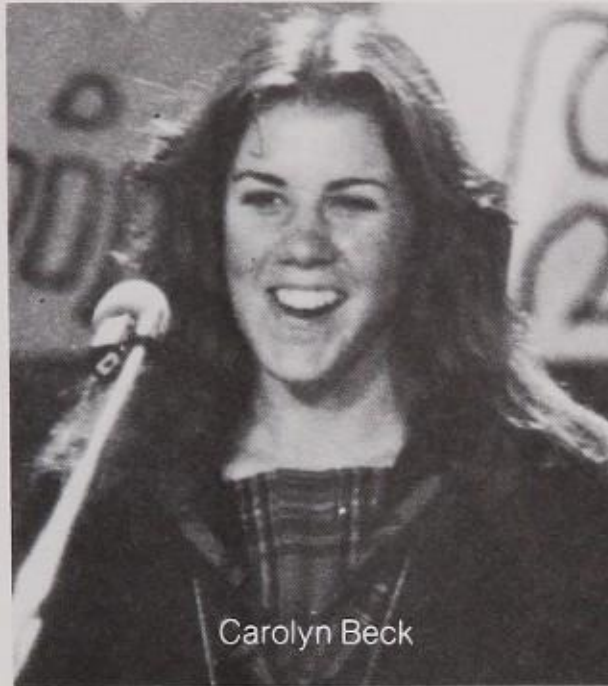

"When you are working closely with a large number of people, it is important to realize that what you want has very little significance in deciding what is best for the group. You must listen with an open mind and accept and support any decisions as if they were your own," commented Kendra Mastin.

Creating a new image was the goal of the 77-78 Varsity

Cheerleaders. "We wanted to do crazy, more exciting things, and to represent our student body with more spirit," remarked Sandy Westlake, Head Varsity Cheerleader. Unusual routines were a part of creating this new image. The Varsity squad portrayed the Homecoming theme, "Let the Side Show Begin," when they dressed as clowns to perform their routine at the assembly.

One excellent ribbon and three superior ribbons were received by the Varsity squad for their home routines and new chants at cheerleading camp.

"Cheerleading helped me to grow as a person as I experienced the meaning of responsibility and the value of true friends," commented Sandy.

Performing at the San Diego Chargers' halftime show highlighted the year for the Flagtwirlers. Taking first place in their home routine competition at cheerleading camp during the summer won the group the honor of performing at the game.

Improving their style and promoting enthusiasm were the main goals of the Flagtwirlers. "Flagtwirling has taught me that it can be fun being involved with the school and helped me to better understand people," commented Michelle Duncan.

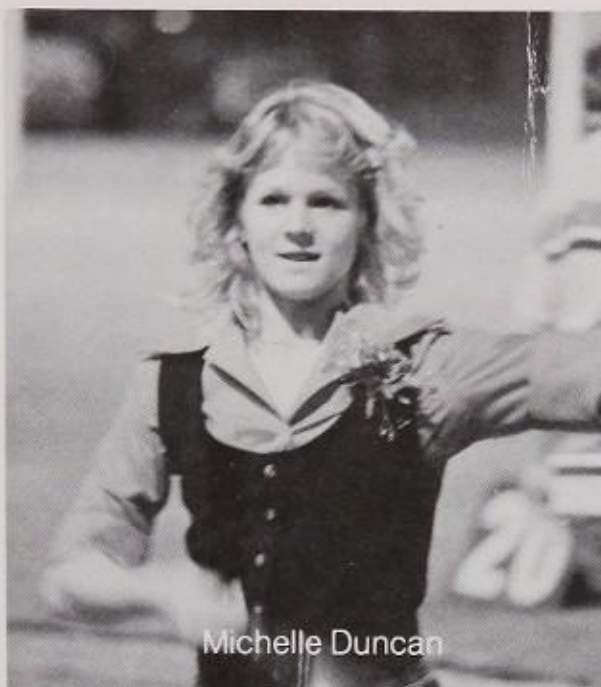

Supporting the members of athletics occupied the Flagtwirler's spare time. "It's fun to do something that makes people happy, and I loved working with such a great group of girls," remarked Cindy Smith, Head Flagtwirler.

Junior Varsity athletics gained more support than in past years from the newly formed Junior Varsity Cheerleaders.

The Pep Club started this new squad to promote spirit at the Junior Varsity level. The J.V. Cheerleaders made posters and attended Junior Varsity sports. "Cheerleading, full of work and excitement, has been quite a challenge and something I'll long remember," commented Lori Hunt.

Two superior and two excellent ribbons were received by the J.V. Cheerleaders at summer camp. "Cheerleading has helped me become more spirited, loyal, and it has built up my pride for Glendora," remarked Margaret Turner, "Cheerleading has also emptied my pocketbook!"

Representing the class of 1980, the Bee Cheerleaders' main goal was to help the sophomore class gain more recognition. "It gives me a good feeling to know that I'm representing Glendora High School," stated Chun-Mae Wang, Head Bee Cheerleader.

To support sophomore athletics the Bee Cheerleaders attended games and inspired the players with posters and cheers. "It makes me feel good to be able to support our teams as much as I can," commented Jolee Pippert.

once took a pencil and drew a picture of a man;
He stepped out of the paper and asked who I am.

"Not identity-wise," he clarified to me,
"But belief-wise and life-wise." He paused. "Do you see?"
I thought of an answer and said, "I want to be . . ."
When he waved his hands and shouted at me,

"Not what you hope to be in future-sense.
What you are doing with your life present-tense?"

The answer was easy: "Just the usual;
Listening to music and going to school."

"You cannot be serious!" he grimly said.
"You must be delirious!" and he shook his head.

"Why are you wasting your time down here?
Life is too short, believe me, my dear.
Think of the things that come from above:
Rainbows and sunsets and, most of all, love."

"It's not the fact that your life is routine.
It's the way that you live it, to see what it means.
Think of love, before you move
And put it into all that you do.
Then you will find what I'm trying to explain
And you'll then understand what there is to a name."

And with that, back into the picture he stepped,
And I walked around thinking of the man I had met.

Happiness crept over me when I thought of him.
It seemed as though a new life had begun.

I then ran to my friends to share the news
And tell them I no longer was singing the blues.

I returned to the picture after a while,
But something was different;
On his face was a smile.

Two roads diverged in yellow wood.
I could not choose; I only stood.
For both of them looked just as good,
And if I could take both, I would.

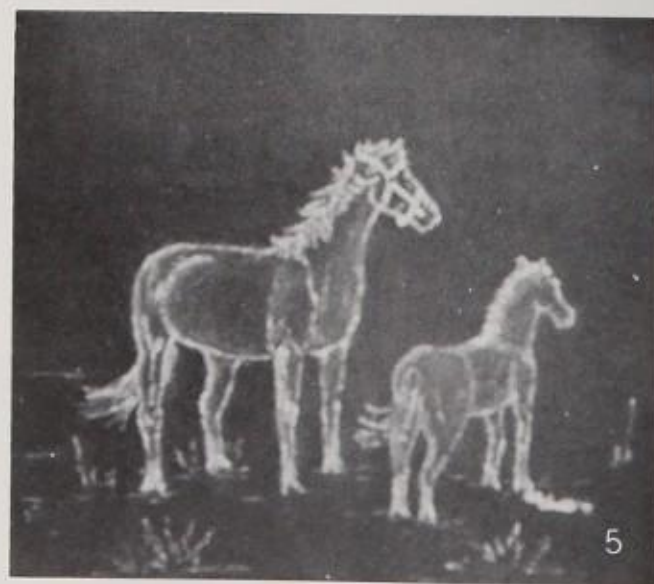

I looked down to the end of one
To where a tiny brook did run.
I could lie down in heat of sun
And wiggle toes in mud. What fun!

But down the other, in the shade,
A masterpiece that nature made;
The flowers and the bird parade
Made dreams of barefeet nearly fade.

Barefeet or birds? Oh, to decide
Was much too hard, I must confide,
For choosing one, I would have cried,
And wished I'd walked the other side.

I flipped a coin, heads left, tails right,
And tossed it up with all my might.
But, though the coin was shiny bright,
It rolled in weeds and out of sight.

I hoped a voice would whisper sweet,
And tell me which was greater treat.
It came; much louder, less discreet:
"Oh son, come home, it's time to eat." 3

Paused on the threshold,
you are at your turning point,
seniors growing up.

You've come to an end,

but continue on.

Go on — continue,

Each day we are together we have grown closer and closer to each other.
 Each hour is well spent!
 Each minute is made up of many happy moments.
 Each one of these moments has its own special meaning.
 The sun showing its face through the clouds.
 The birds singing around us.
 The waves breaking against the rugged shore.
 All these things remind me of you.
 The stars above us show us each stepping stone in life.
 As we walk along the road of life there will be many rocks to stumble over and holes to fall into.
 Even so we know that the rough road could end just around the next bend.
 When we reach the valley of peace and love we will stay there awhile before moving to bigger and better things.
 If we should come to a "Y" in the road and go our separate ways,
 Let us say goodbye and leave each other as friends.
 If we can indeed say goodbye without bitterness we have made a great stride towards understanding what genuine love is all about.

"The Matchmaker"

began the theatrical year at G.H.S. The play was a production of the Glendora Adult Education Community Theatre Workshop and the high school's Thespian troupe. It premiered December 1, 2, and 3 in the high school's Little Theatre.

"The Matchmaker," written by Thornton Wilder, was the non-musical version of "Hello, Dolly." It starred Mrs. Dolly Levi who was trying to arrange matches between Cornelius and Mrs. Molloy, and Ambrose and Ermengarde. At the same time, she was scheming to marry Horace. She succeeded in all three of her goals.

The play itself was very humorous and drew good audiences to its last two showings.

"Flowers for Algernon," the second play of the season for GHS, ran in the Little Theatre January 13, 14, 20, and 21. The play was presented by the Glendora High School Fine Arts Department.

"Flowers" was a very intense drama, centered around the retarded Charlie Gordon and the results of the operation designed to increase his intelligence. The operation succeeded, but Charlie, raised to genius level, soon found himself fighting an inner battle over possession of his mind. Then, Charlie discovered his newly obtained intelligence would decrease even faster than it increased.

The play closed with Charlie placing flowers on the grave of Algernon, the experimental mouse who kept Charlie company all through his metamorphosis.

The third performance for the GHS Little Theatre was intended to be "A Midsummer Night's Dream," but due to the illness of one of the principal cast members, the show was quickly switched to the British play,

"Black Comedy."

Only two and a half weeks went into this play's production; yet the play was as well done as any of the GHS performances. An amusing play, "Black Comedy" is the story of an engaged couple who steal furniture from a neighbor to impress the girl's father and a famous art collector. But then a fuse blows, and the couple is left to deal with mistaken identities, the neighbors, total darkness, and an "ex"-girlfriend.

"Black Comedy" ran March 2, 3, and 4, and was a joint production of the high school and the Adult Community Workshop.

Band was performing a combined halftime show with the Armijo Superband. The show was televised during the San Francisco Forty-Niners — Dallas Cowboys football game on December 12.

The band marched in five street competitions, two field competitions, and concluded with the Chaffey College Tournament of Champions, in which they took first on the street and third overall. These performances were in addition to the football halftime shows, the Homecoming parade, and several pep rallies.

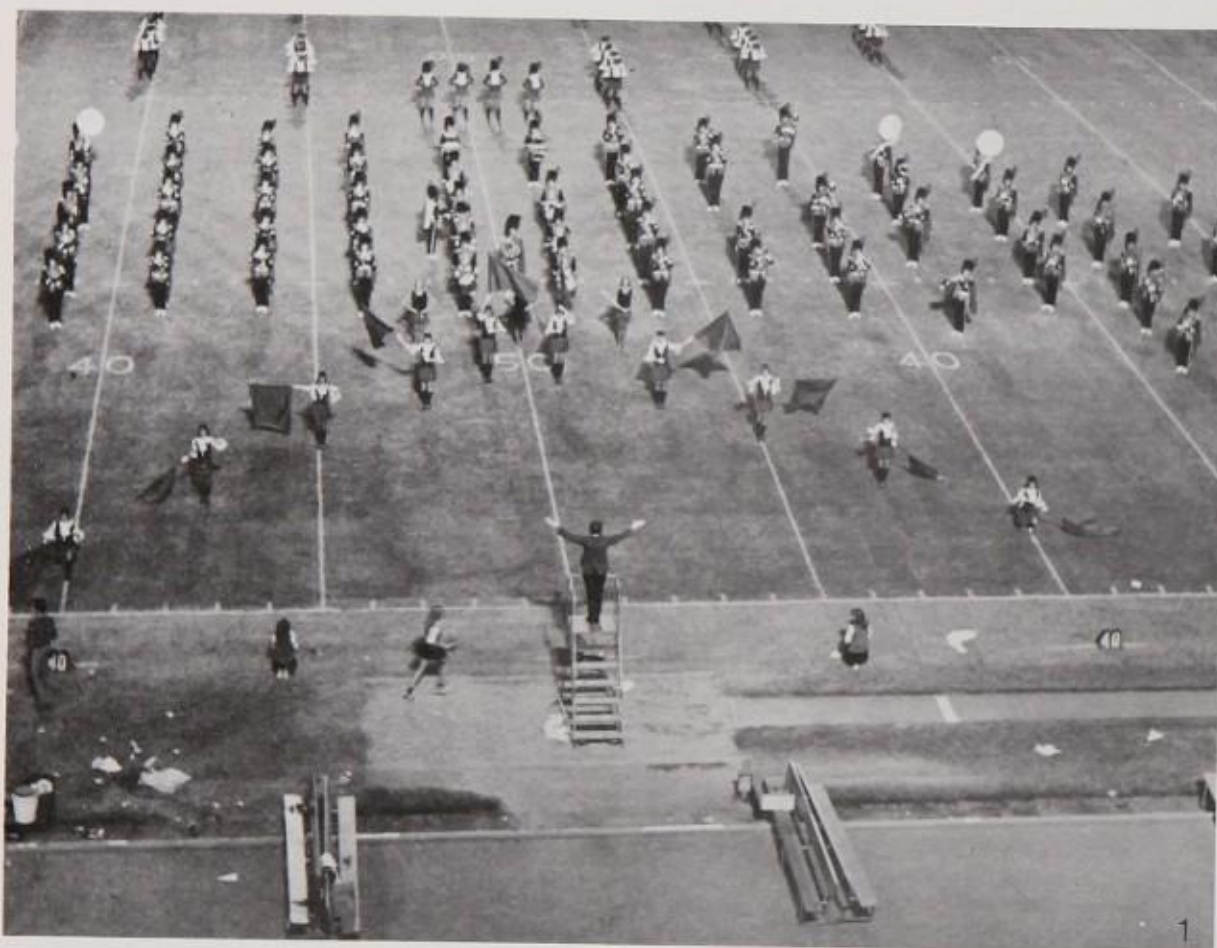

The Tartan Band Drum Section competed in the West Arcadia and Santa Monica Drum Competitions. The Brass Fanfare group, in their second year, took third at the Chino Brass Fanfare Competition.

To conclude the year, the GHS Tartan Band hosted the Glendora Christmas parade, and gave their final flourish at the annual Band-o-rama at Citrus College.

Auxiliaries

of the Tartan band added a special flair and a dash of color to the band performances. The banners promoted spirit at all performances, proudly displaying the letters which represent the "Pride of the Foothills." Glendora's tall flags enhanced the band's field performances as an accent group, using newly purchased flags. This was the first year flags were featured in a competition show. The pipers, symbols of Glendora High School's Scottish theme, represented the school and the community at Disneyland and other locations throughout the Southland. The majorettes, all three new to the band, began a successful season by taking first place at the Azusa Golden Days parade which was their first competition.

1. Tall Flags perform in their feature number, "Sting of the Serpent." 2. Banner Carrier Jennifer Graham displays her award-winning smile. 3. Many hours of grooming are spent in preparation for each performance.

This year the Glendora Tartan Concert Band performed a wide variety of music representing different musical eras, from Francois Gossec's "Classic Overture in C" to a contemporary piece called "Shivaree" by Francis McBeth. The Pep Band performed at all the football games and participated at the basketball games played at home. This was the first year the Pep Band marched a halftime show in the gym during one of the basketball games. The Stage Band showed marked improvement this year and arranged a jazz clinic with well-known trumpeter Don Ellis. The Pipe Band continued their outstanding work, being in large demand for many community affairs.

Glendora High School's three choral ensembles

this year were the Concert Choir, the A Cappella Choir, and the Royal Stewart Singers. The Concert Choir was comprised of juniors and seniors and studied folk, pop, rock, and classical music. A Cappella choir was open only to sophomores, and emphasized current American music. The elite Royal Stewarts were especially in demand, performing at varied locations such as Disneyland, Bandorama, and the American Revolution luncheon.

All three choirs participated in the Christmas Assembly and Concert, the Christmas Sing Along, and helped deliver "Singing Grams" to students and faculty. To conclude the year, the combined choirs planned a two-week tour of the Hawaiian Islands in the summer of 1978.

FACES

Each year the California Scholastic Federation (CSF), a nationwide academic honor society, rewards

qualifying seniors with a life membership. To receive this membership seniors must have been in the CSF Club four semesters including one semester during their senior year. Club membership was determined on a point system according to grades. Students must have retained a "B" average during the school term to become a life member. CSF Life Members were recognized for their achievements by many colleges offering scholarships. Life members were also recognized at graduation with a gold seal on their diploma and an honorary gold sash.

At the Senior Awards Banquet, CSF Life Members received a gold pin for their scholastic efforts. Seniors who achieved life membership during second semester were recognized in the Bellendaine Supplement.

Your friends say they'll keep in touch, but you know they won't. Strangers say they wanted to know you, but they never tried. Teachers say come back and see them, and you know you won't. Maybe someday it won't matter. But right now, it hurts a little.

Class of 1978

As seniors, the Class of 1978 stood on a long promised road. The promise provides hope and opportunity on the road to success and good fortune. For over 700 seniors, graduation climaxed three years of ability, involvement, and achievement at Glendora High School.

As sophomores, the class was led by class officers Dan Reedy, Brian Regele, Kim Schlesinger, and Lori Martyns. The sophomore class experienced the spirit of '76, including the Homecoming game televised on KNBC and the last of the senior privileges. Bee Cheerleaders Linda Kemby, Cheryl Smith, Stephanie Deans, Joanne Arsenault, and Sandy Westlake were all initiated at the Howdy Assembly. Many sophomores participated in the painting of the murals on the gym. It was a year of new people and the adjustment of a new lifestyle.

In 1977, the juniors felt a year of change. There was a new administration, new counselors, and new teachers. The Band and Drill Team visited Scotland during the summer, marching in the World renowned Edinburgh Festival and Scottish Highland games. With the help of Pete Watkins, Brad Sago, Mark Herringshaw, and Art Pasimio, the junior class raised $260 during Welfare Week for the City of Hope. Under the organization of class officers Charlene Clay, Kim Schlessinger, Sandy Westlake, and Connie Brown, the Prom was held at the Disneyland Hotel.

Many juniors received honors in special areas of achievement. Charlene Underhill and Brian Regele were selected as American Foreign Exchange students, visiting Sri Lanka and Germany respectively. Linda Kemby and Tom Joos represented GHS in Girls' and Boys' State. Rob Hilliard achieved all-league honors at the left wing position in varsity soccer, while Ed Salas achieved all-league honors as a varsity baseball pitcher.

As seniors, the Class of '78 represented a "new spirit." The senior class achieved this with the help of a new "spirit chart" and a scotty dog mascot. Homecoming was highlighted by live elephants which emphasized the theme "Let the Side Show Begin." Sheryl Hawblitzel was crowned Homecoming Queen during the festivities.

The Class of '78 was unique, imaginative, and at times even eccentric. Who but Alan Toffoli would ride a horse into the senior class elections while wearing a wet suit, and then be voted Senior Class President? Other officers included Brian Regele, Julie Murphy and Mary Ellen Russell.

To most seniors, their three years at Glendora High School brought them to another fork in the road. They were faced with a new way of life. They changed . . . full circle back to the roots of a new beginning. Glendora High was a source of life's experience without interruption since the first day of school. The seniors of 1978 expressed a great deal of living with fond remembrances that will resurface again and again, because a Tartan lives forever.

PEOPLE

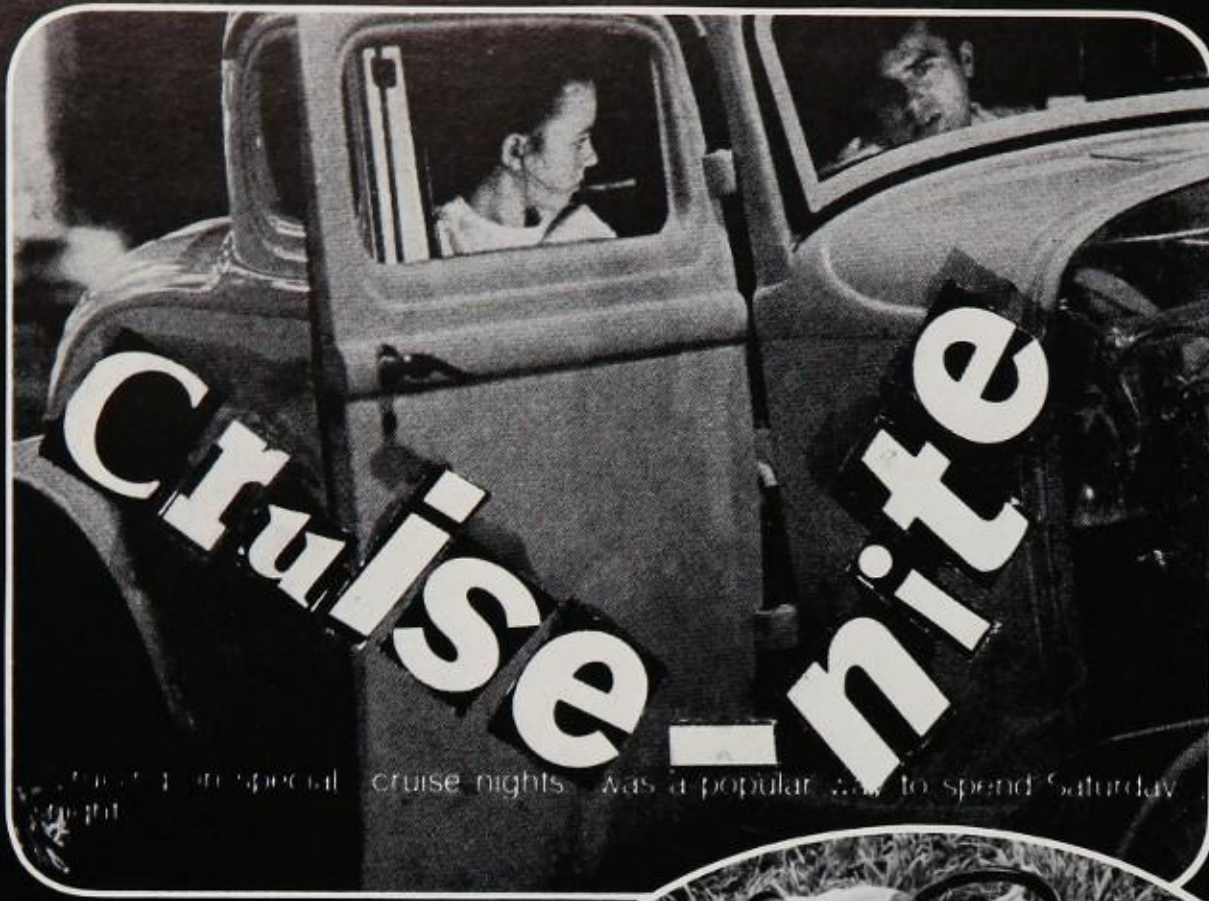

PEOPLE

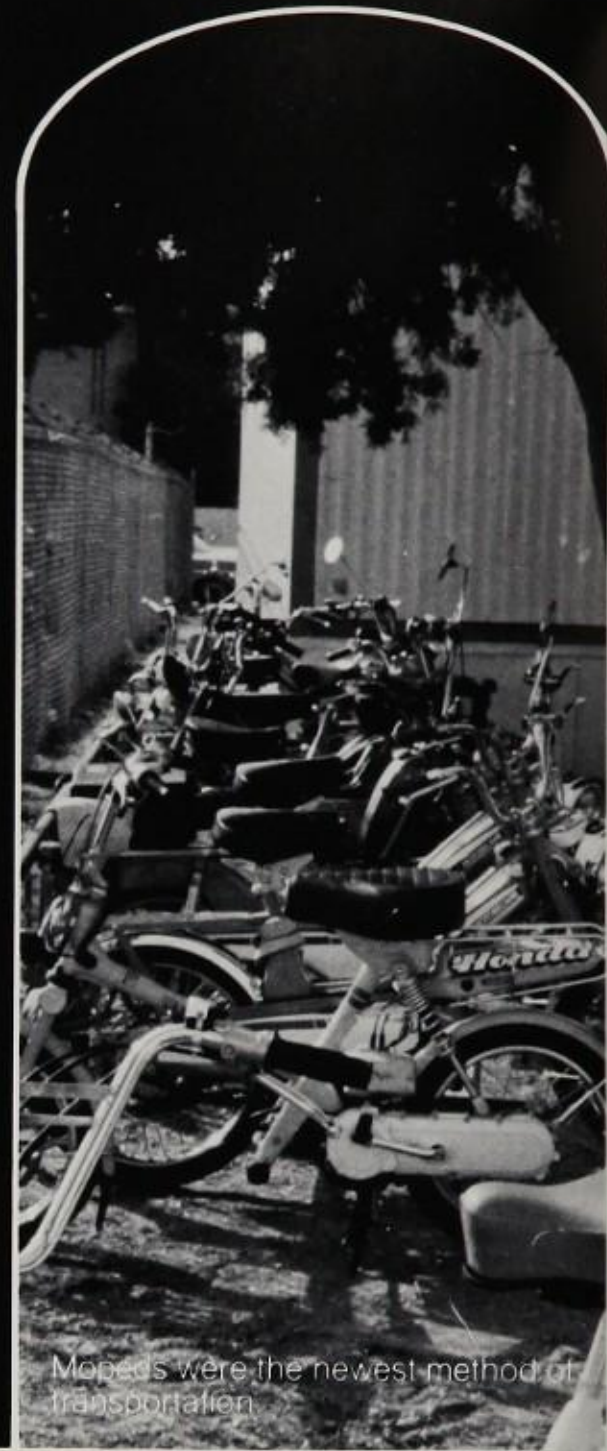

People made 1977-78 the unique year that it was. Everyone participated in a different way. Some had only the year and each other in common. All were at different points in life's winding road. The students were experiencing everything from dressing up for welfare week to learning in the classroom, from getting out of the confines of junior high to discovering the freedom that senior graduation brings. The instructors were getting a last shot in at teaching something to the future leaders of the nation. The administrators were trying to tie everything together; to control some of the future leaders and encourage others. Unique and different experiences were lived everyday by every element of Glendora High School.

Going to special cruise nights was a popular way to spend Saturday night.

Mopeds were the newest method of transportation.

Girls enjoyed in circles by Denise Kozik, and in a cup by Linda Jones.

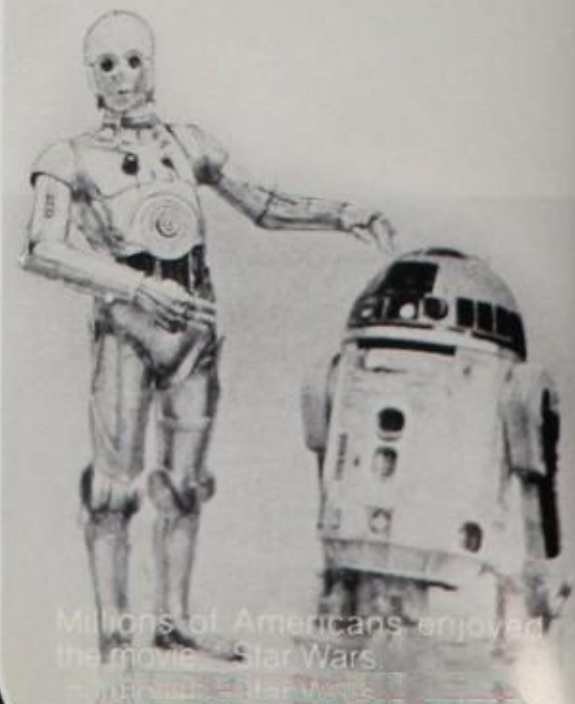

Many new purses were seen.

Boots were worn with everything from skirts to pants.

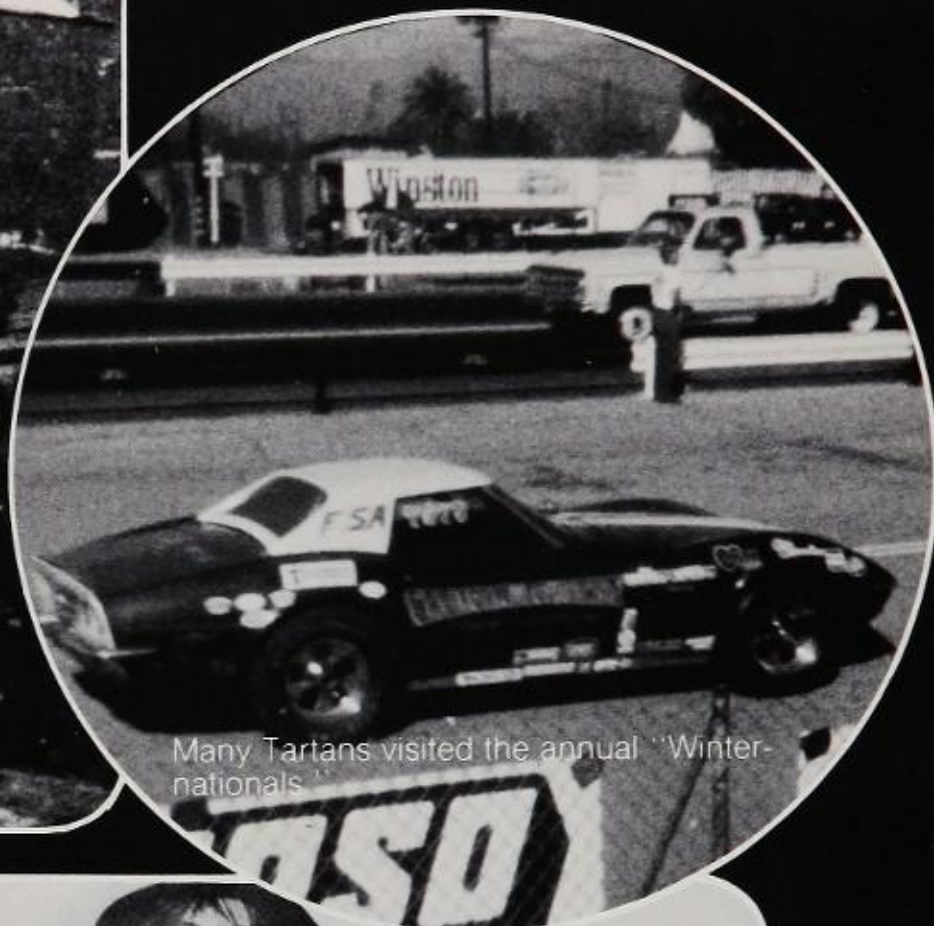

Fads bonded unique individuals together. Mopeds, fro-gurt cones, new purses, pants tucked into boots — these were a few things that many otherwise opposite individuals had in common. Maybe the fads lasted only a year, and then were thrown away forever into a bag full of memories. Leaving an old fad is similar to the end of a year. As time passes, they both seem silly, but they both are a step on the long and winding road of life that wouldn't be traded for anything.

Millions of Americans enjoyed the movie Star Wars.

Hang gliding off Glendora Mountain Road was an exciting Fad

Many Tartans visited the annual "Winter-nationals"

Sidewalk surfers jam miles around to the pipeline Skateboard Park.

Fleetwood Mac was given the American Music award "Group of the Year"

LEADERSHIP

GLENDORA TARTANS!

When I came into office I set a goal. That goal was to make 1977-78 "the best year ever." I wanted to build a "new spirit," and I had a group of the most outstanding, exciting, and dedicated student leaders ever assembled.

Elephant races, pep rallies, spirit weeks, Channel 7, open forums, better food, "G" on the mountain, lighting for the soccer field, new and different assemblies: all these things marked the hard work of the leadership class to make your year more enjoyable.

Were we successful? If there was ever a time when interest filled your eyes or a smile broke out on your face, if there was ever a time when you looked forward to some activity, or, most importantly, if there was ever a time when you were proud to say, "I'm a Glendora Tartan," 1977-78 was truly successful.

I would like to thank every person on campus for making my years at Glendora so enjoyable, and a special thanks to the leadership class of '78 for a year that will truly live forever

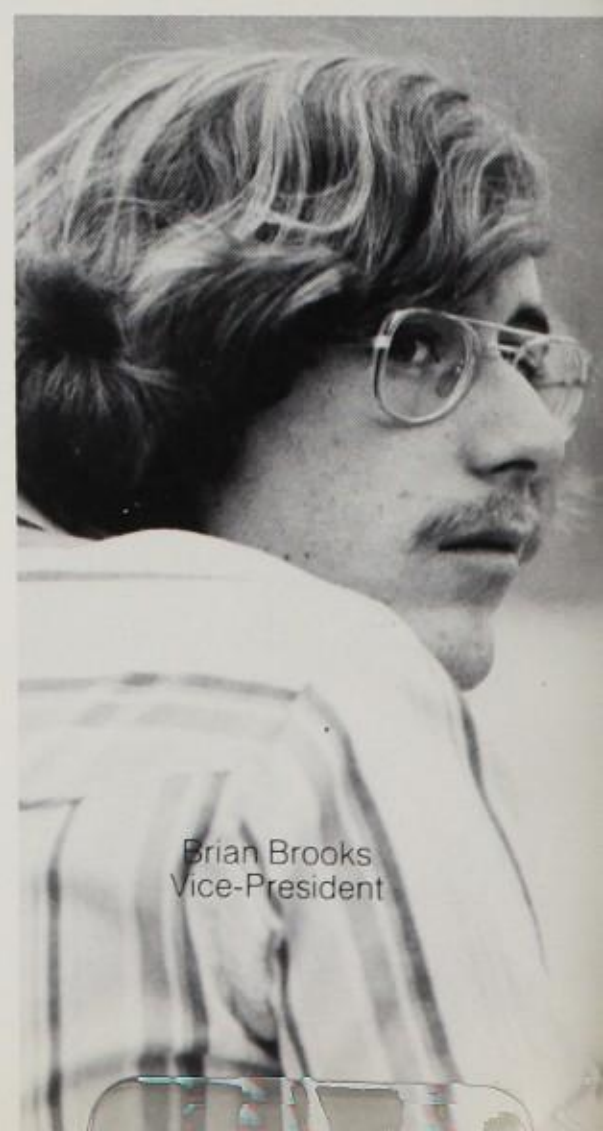

Sincerely,
Tony Robbins
A.S.B. President 1977-78

New Spirit

was the Student Council's main goal. Many changes were made to help fight apathy and start a real "spirit surge." A scotty dog costume was purchased. Tryouts were held to see who would get to wear it and be called "Spirit" at games and school activities. A spirit chart was started. This kept a running count of every activity and which class won each competition. Building a brick "G" on one of Glendora's "prided foothills" was a special activity, a gift from the class of '78. The officers spared no expense to try and unite the student body. One way was to make available three elephants for the students to ride and race.

Glendora High's "new spirit" even attracted the T.V. cameras. Before the first semester was over, they were on the news twice.

Enthusiasm

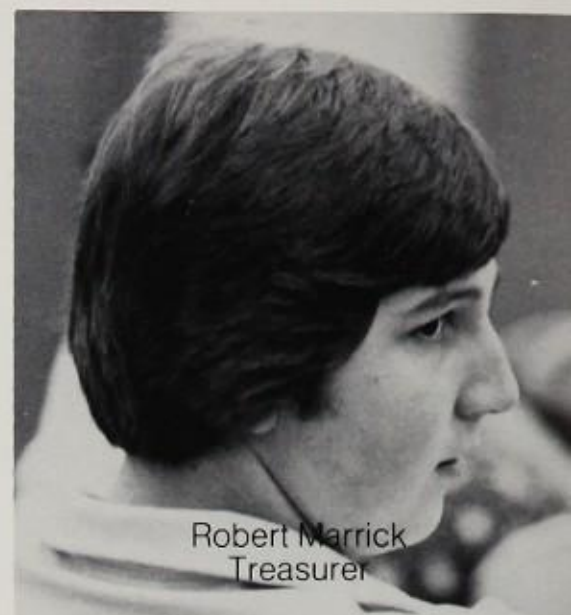

was felt by all during the school year. "It was fun to be able to work with such dedicated, interested kids," replied Miss Billie Oglesby, Student Council Advisor. She added, "Both the elected and appointed officers worked harder and spent more time during the summer than previously had been spent." She noticed a real sense of school pride. "They made an effort to remove themselves from the limelight and get the student body involved," was another comment.

Marie Keller, Commissioner of Public Relations remarked, "I was surprised at the enthusiasm the students and community showed toward the improved coverage."

There were articles in the newspaper almost every week. "Apathy is on the way out" was a feeling shared by the officers, as well as the feeling that "New Spirit" was abundant.

Parking Tickets, fraud, littering — these were common cases with which Student Court dealt.

The role of Student Court at our high school has been misunderstood. As a branch of student government, it is not a club. The judicial system is basically the same whether in the Supreme Court, a county court, or Glendora High's Student Court.

"I wanted to get Student Court to be something people respected," commented Chief Justice, Mary Ann Adams. Miss Oglesby, advisor, felt that Mary Ann really tried to get it to be a useful part of the student government. Getting cases on trial as soon as possible was a new goal.

Dear Friends,

By the time you read this letter, I will have left Glendora to go back to Uruguay. I will have finished one of the most beautiful years of my life and the only thing I can say to you is "thank you, because you made this year possible."

Actually, my first days in Glendora, I felt a little unhappy because I didn't meet very many people and I found Glendora to be much quieter than my city. I thought, though, that when I began school, it would be different, and I was right! Your high school is wonderful and I am sure I will miss it when I go back to Uruguay. Your high school is for study and study. I have met a lot of very good friends here at Glendora High. You have given me this opportunity, whereas in Uruguay we have no clubs or assemblies, and we cannot have meetings within the school. Also we only have the five minutes between classes to talk to a friend, because we have no nutrition or lunch breaks. You can only meet with the students of your own class and the students don't change classes, the teachers do. Also we cannot elect the subject we would like to take, everyone has to take the same subjects. So now you can see why I feel your school is so much better.

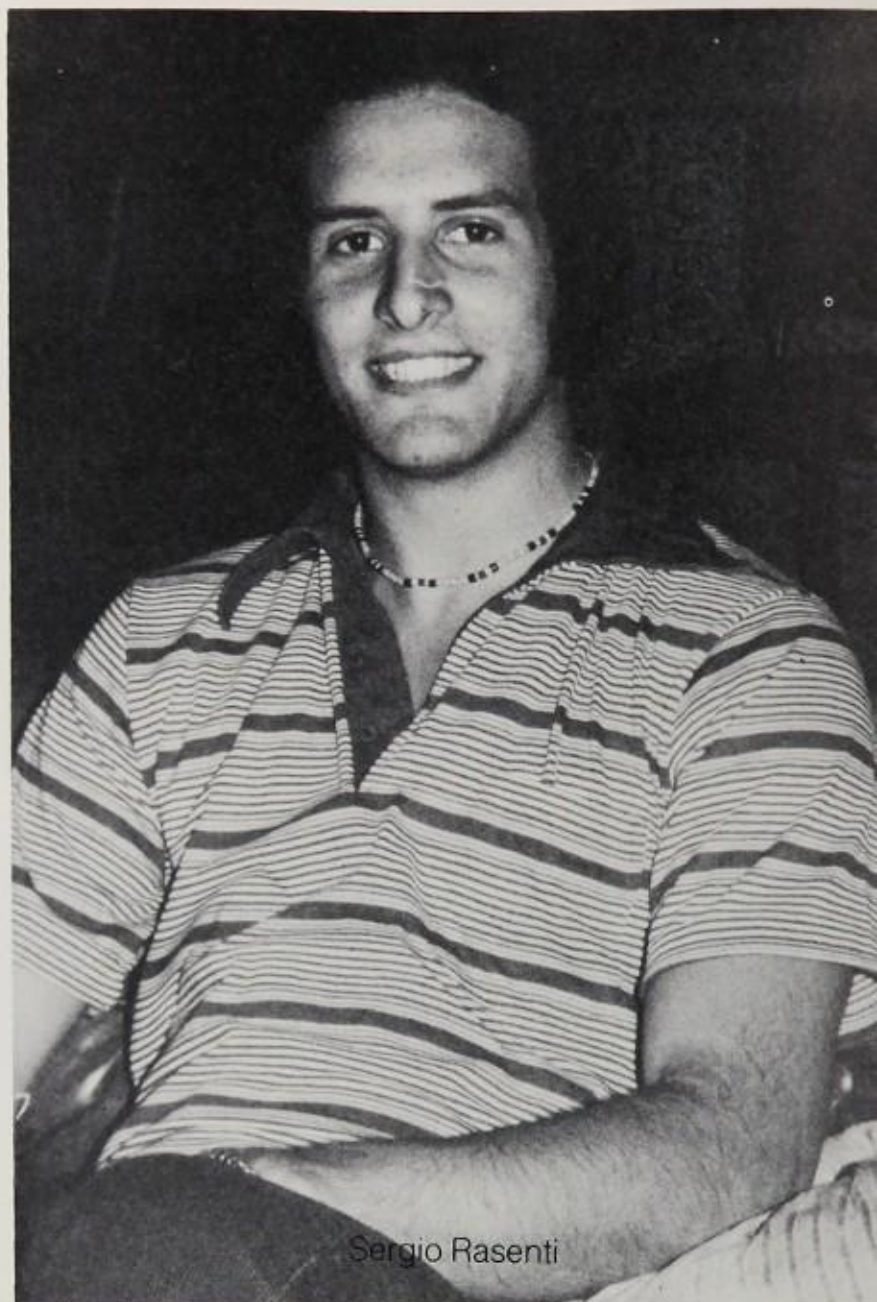

I hope that you will write a lot of letters to me and I am going to try to write a lot to you. If you ever decide to come and visit my country, I want you to know you will always be welcome in my home.

Well, my friends, I must stop now. I could go on writing forever, but I know that this space in the yearbook is small. I don't want to say good-bye, but that I will see you again very soon. More than anything else in the world, I want to see you all again.

See you soon,

Sergio

Gerlinde Peter

Hi Tartans,

I want to thank each and everyone of you who gave even just a little of yourself to make this past year a very special one for me. Sometimes it was just a smile you gave me, a word you said, or a letter you wrote me. Other times, it was an activity or a class we shared, or a dinner you invited me to in your home. I also want to thank all my teachers and especially my counselor for your great help. You are wonderful people and you have taught me so many things.

I hope that many of you will take the opportunity, like I did, to go to other countries with AFS. You learn so much, not only about the people and the way they live, but about yourself and your feelings inside. You learn about your own country from another point of view and notice things about your family and friends back home that you never noticed before. It is a wonderful opportunity and I hope many of you will take advantage of it.

If any of you ever come to Germany, please don't forget to visit me, even if we didn't get a chance to get acquainted while I was here in Glendora. All of you Tartans are welcome in our home.

Lots of love,

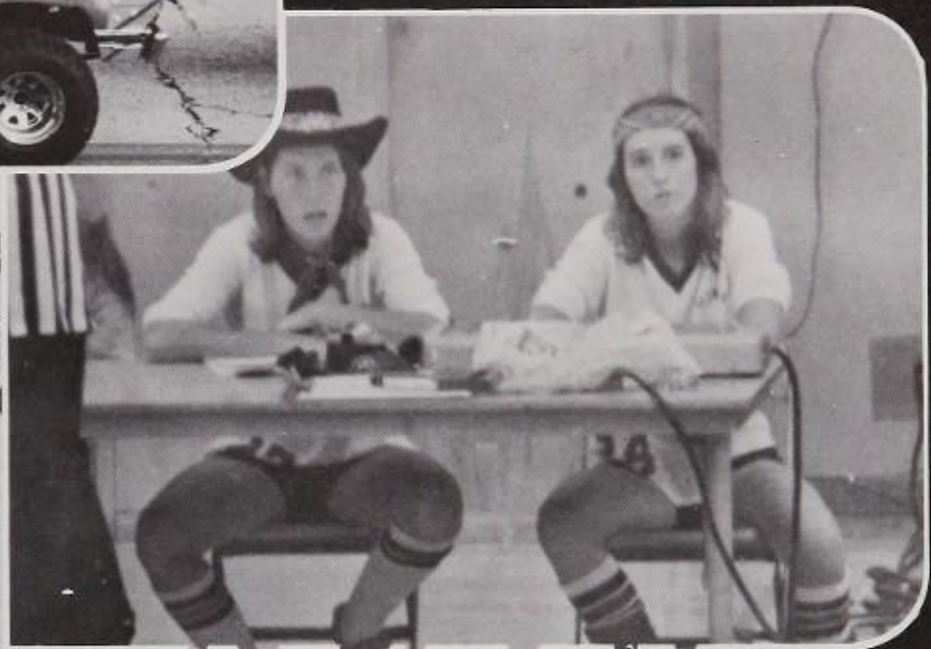

Gerlinde

FACES

OF 79 & 80

Junior Class Officers

1. Steve Jennings — President
2. Clare Hertel — Vice President
3. Susan Clark — Secretary
4. Kim King — Treasurer

Class of '79

At the middle of the road, so much to look back on, so much to look forward to, this is the class of '79.

Juniors were very active during Howdy Week, and almost undefeated in Tug-O-War.

All class pins were sold by the Junior class as a money making campaign to support this year's prom.

Class of '80

"I think the Class of '80 has a lot of enthusiasm and spirit," said Anne Hanna, treasurer of the sophomore class.

The sophomores held a dance after a football game in October. They also entered their float in the Homecoming Parade.

The Class of 80 is just beginning the long and winding road of Glendora High School.

Principal

PRIDE returned to the Glendora High School campus during the 77-78 school year. Students, staff and members of the community were successful in finding solutions to long-standing problems.

Standardized test scores in basic skill areas continued to show significant improvement. Our seniors graduated one or more years above grade level in reading, language and mathematics. Student leaders took a more active role in all aspects of campus life. The Bellendaine and Tartan Shield achieved unusual standards of excellence. A new spirit of cooperation and achievement was established by our athletic department. For the first time the Royal Stewart Singers joined the Tartan Band and Plaid Piper Drill Team in the Band-O-Rama.

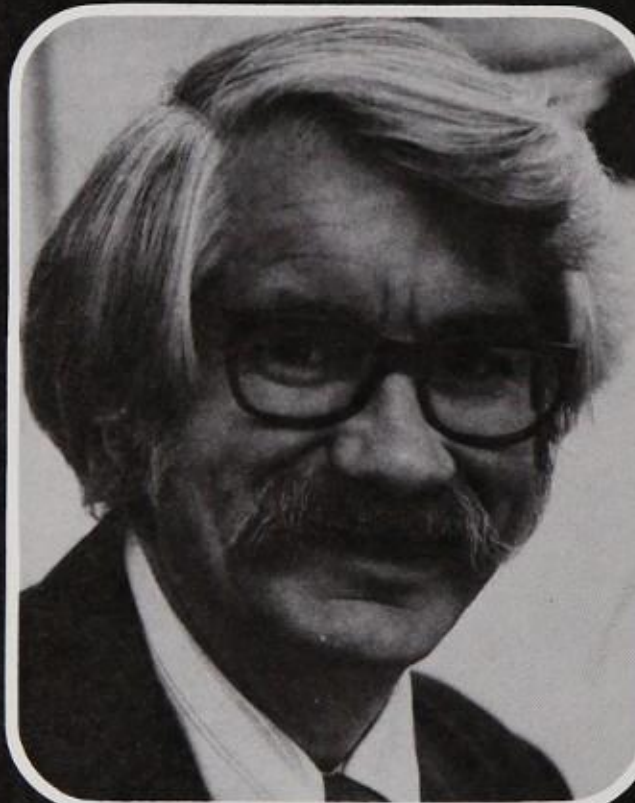

Jog-A-Thon was a successful fund raising project which brought our activity groups and teams together for a common purpose. Television exposure gave our school widespread recognition.

This was a year of success and pride

INSTRUCTORS

"A Long and Winding Road" has been traveled by many of the teachers who teach here at G.H.S. Our Administrators, Counselors, and faculty members have all traveled some roads in life to help them accomplish their goals, and now they are teaching us to fulfill a goal they may have set and to help us, as students, reach our goals.

The new school year at Glendora High brought not only new students, but some new administrators and faculty members. Many new programs were introduced by some of the different departments to help improve the academic part of our school life. The teachers and administrators worked hard to satisfy the needs of each individual student.

In addition to participating in the academic areas of education, many teachers took active part in assemblies, lunch time activities, sports, and various club activities.

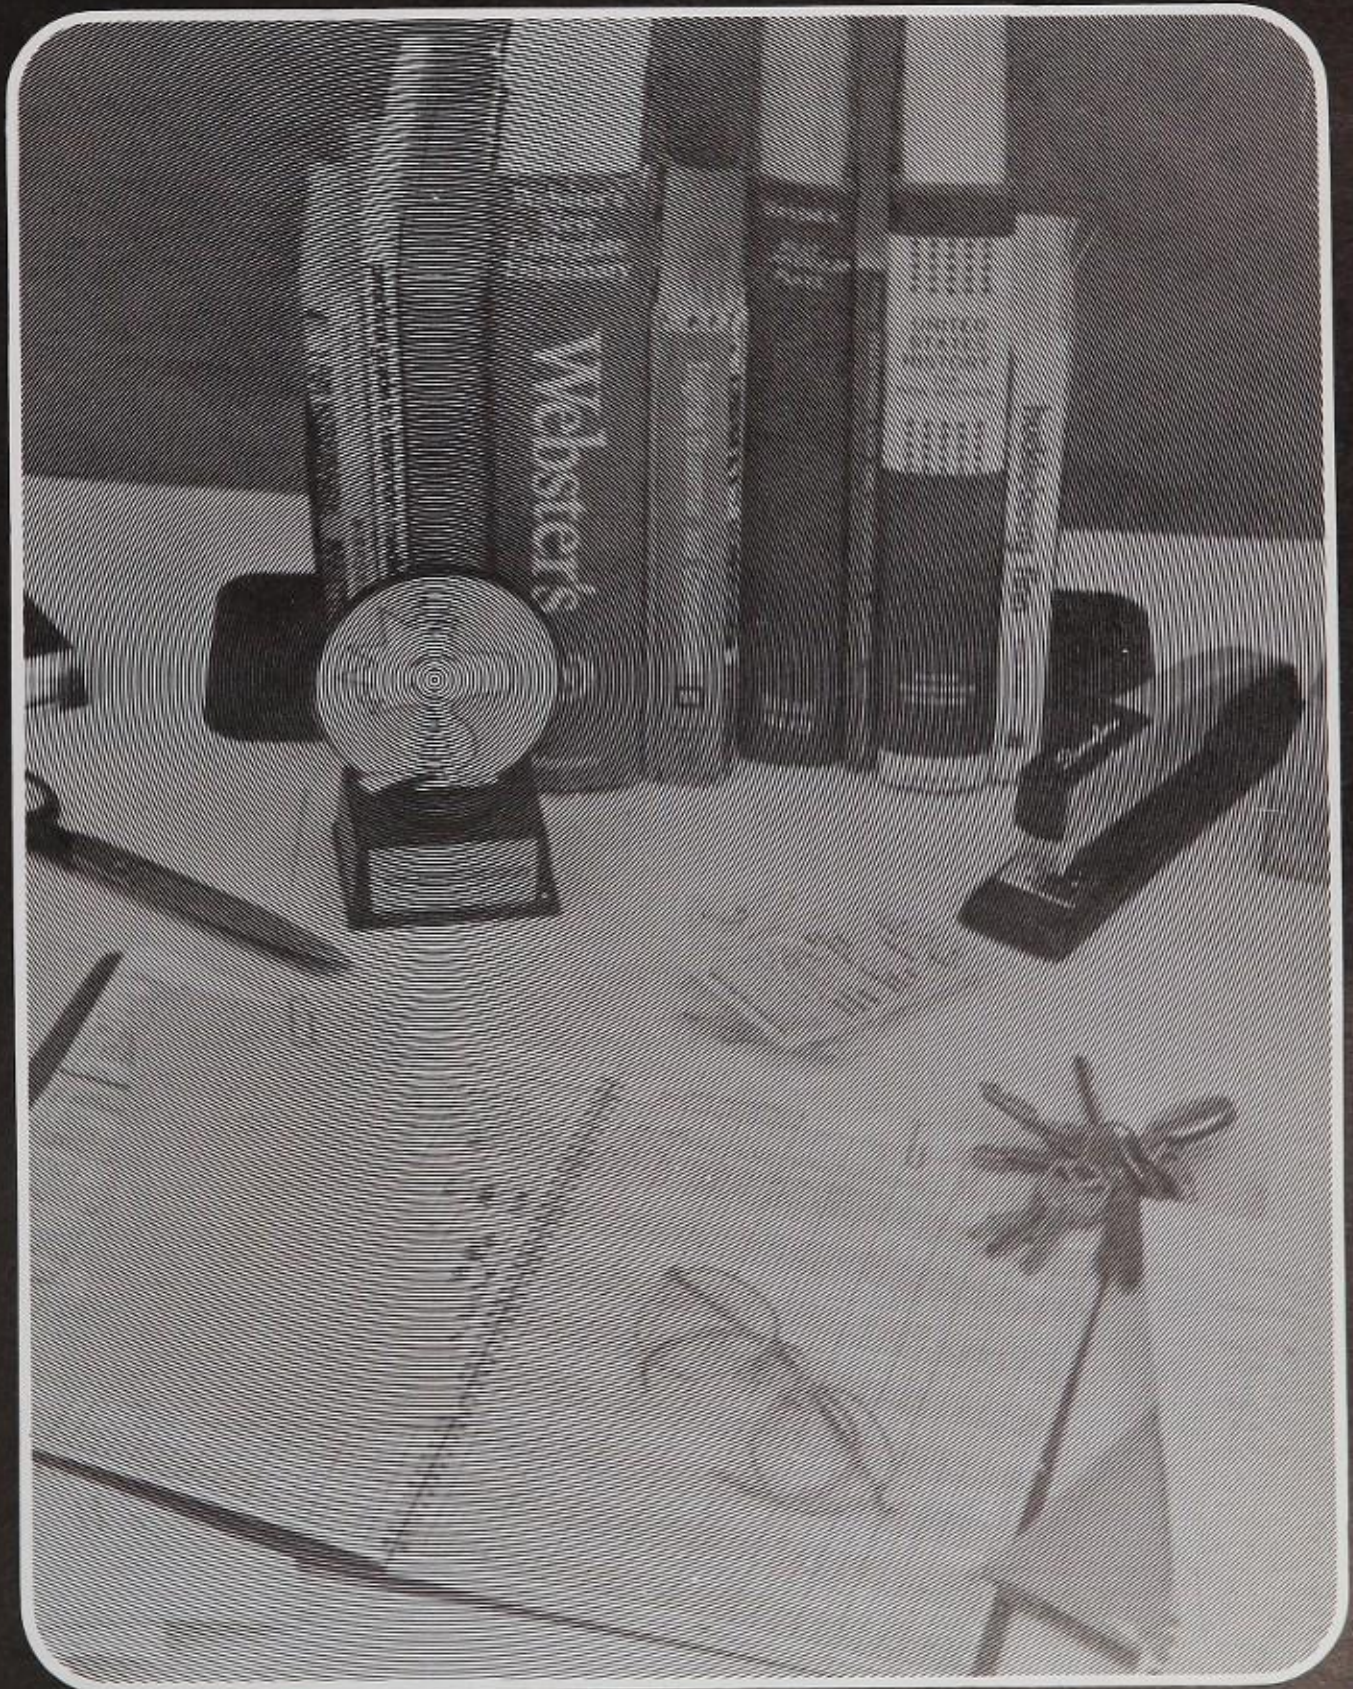

As students of Glendora High School, we feel that our teachers and administrators played a very important part of our school year. Their guidance and friendship was very much appreciated, and because of their influence our travels will probably be a little easier when we come to "A Long and Winding Road."

rushing under my wheels
I don't know how to tell you just how crazy this life feels.
I look around for the friends that I used to turn to
to pull me through,
looking into their eyes
I see them running too.
I don't know when that road
turned onto the road I'm on.
I don't know where I'm running now.
I'm just running on . . .*

TRUCK DRIVING THE TRUCKS

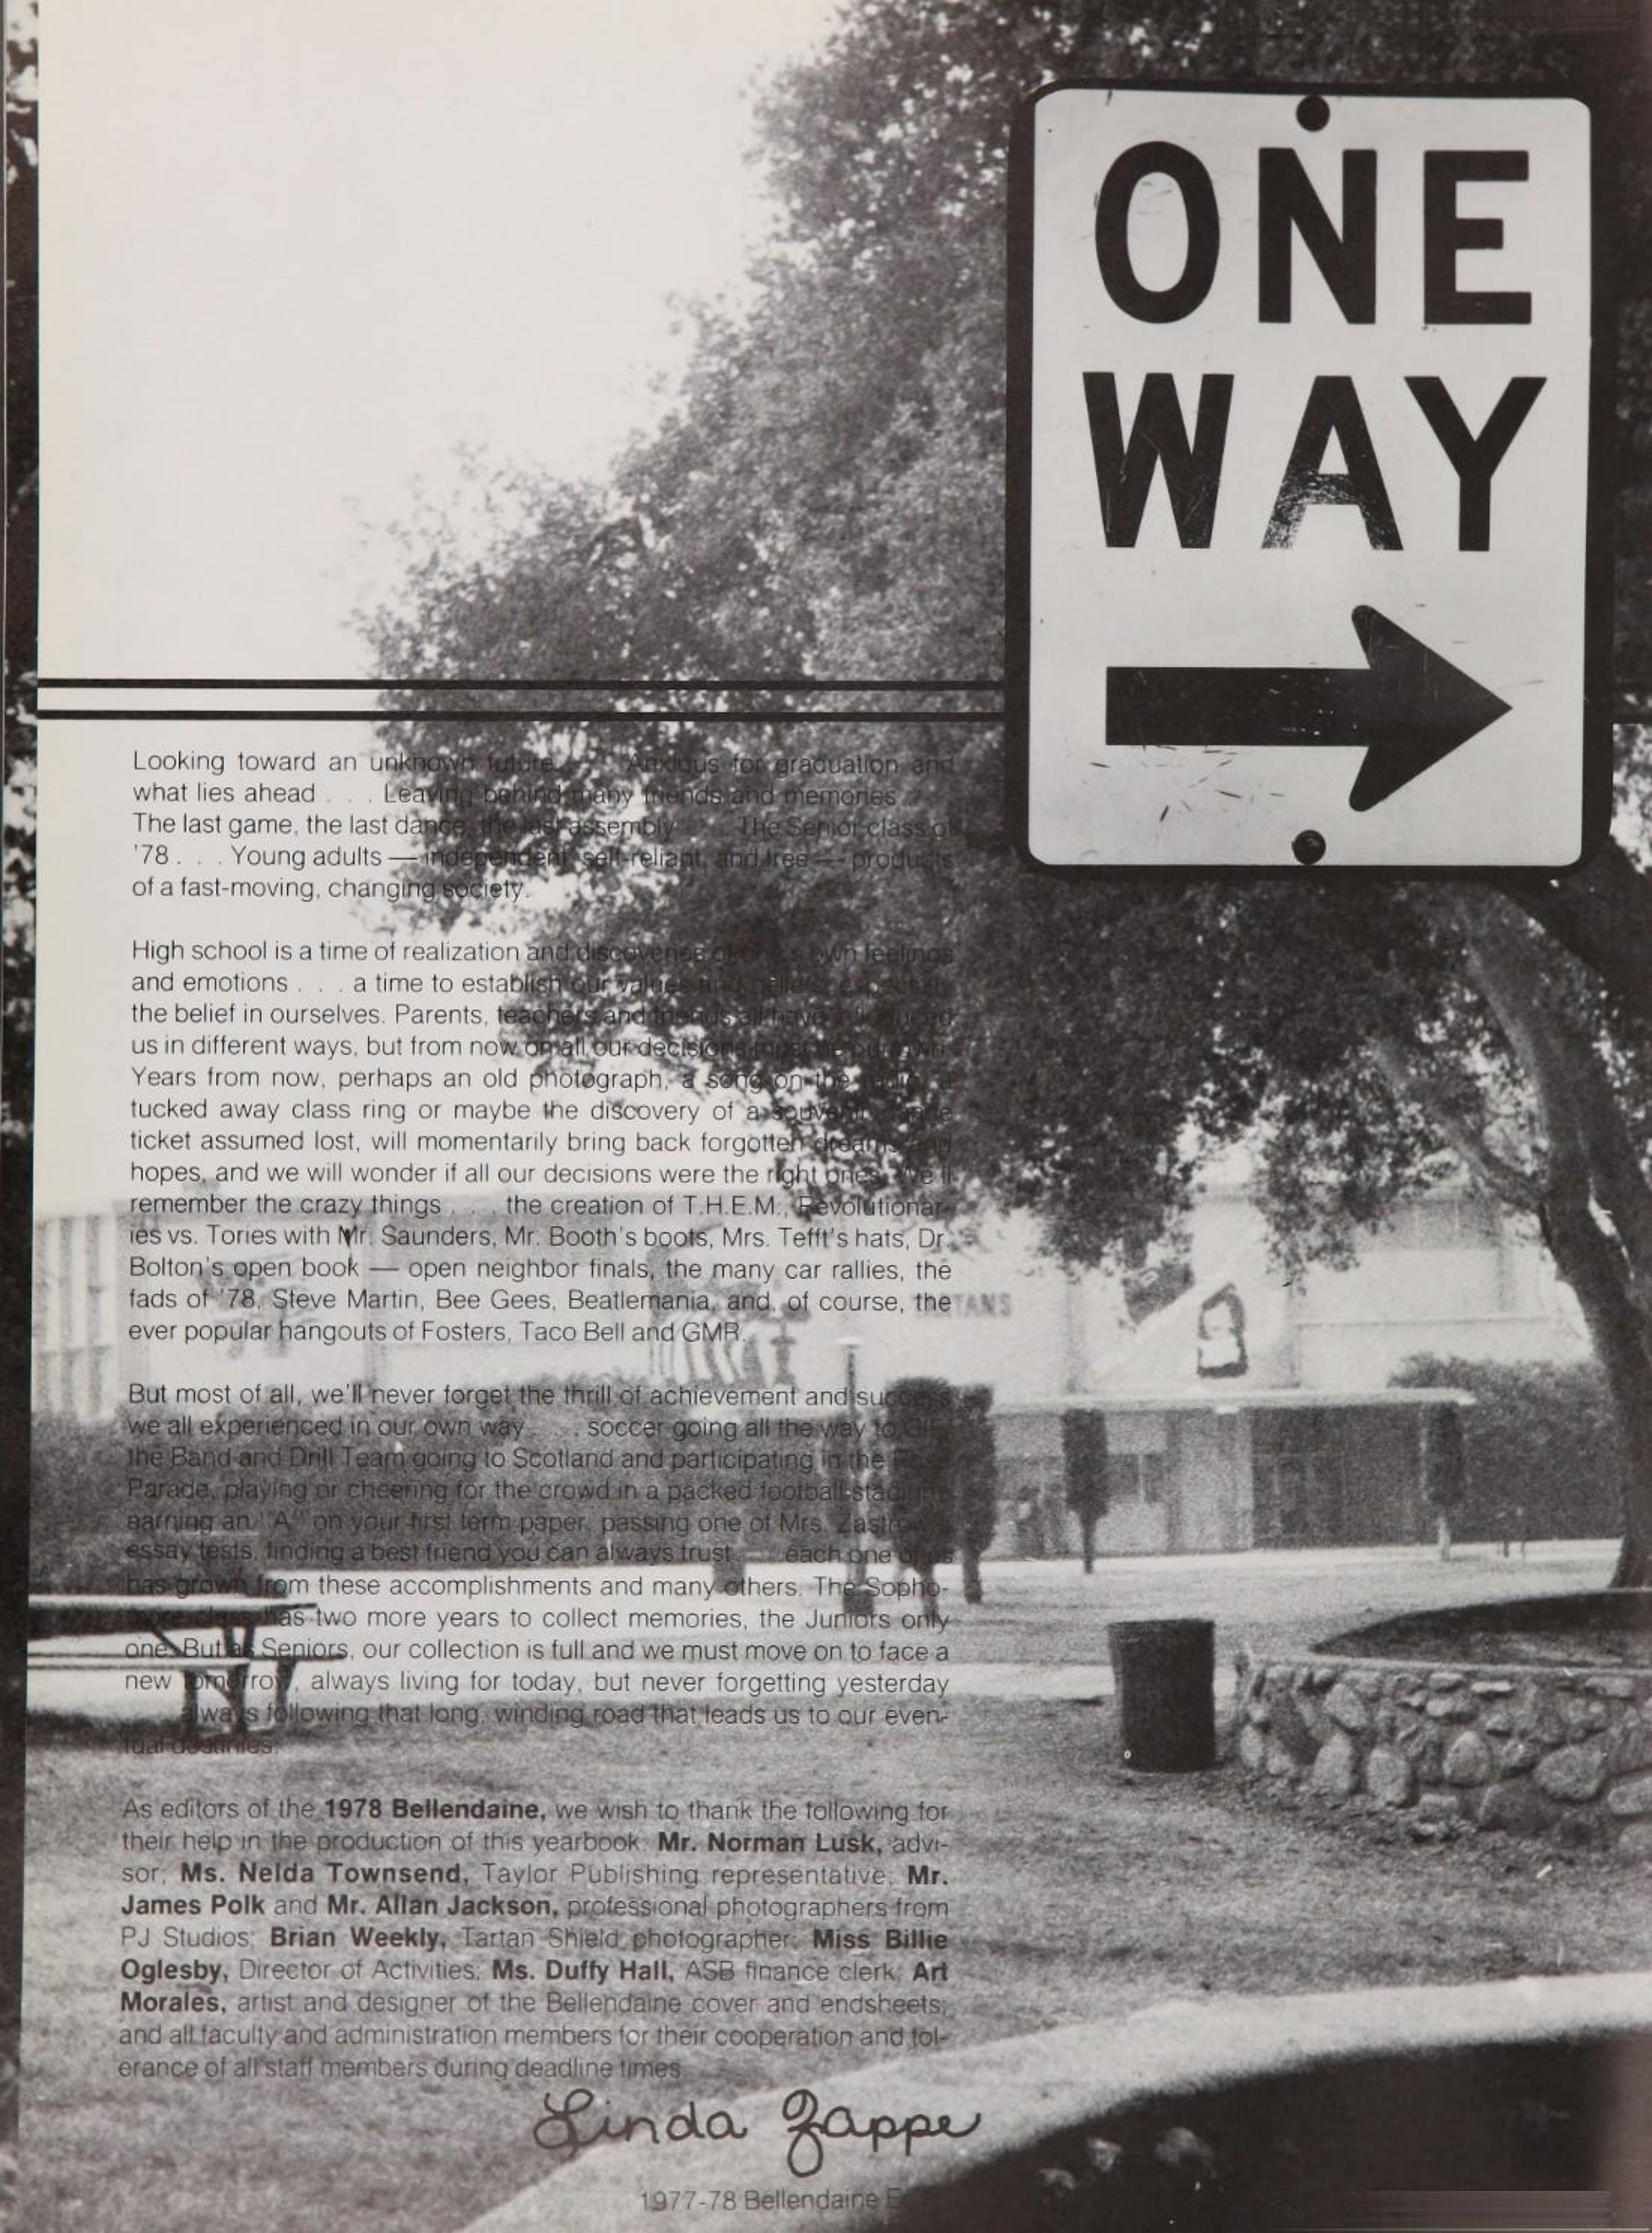

I don't believe I finally made it! In a few minutes they'll call my name, and I'll go up to receive my diploma. You know, this is the moment all my friends and I have talked about for the past three years. Now we'll finally be free to create our own futures. Futures built on our own dreams. When I think about GHS, it seems like only yesterday when I was just a scared sophomore. I can remember those first grueling days of sophomore football. I thought I'd never make the team. It seemed so important at the time but now it doesn't really matter.

And the first time Dad gave me the keys to the car, and we cruised Alosta all night long. And working three months straight to save enough money to get my tux for the Prom. Then blowing my savings on my first car. Now I'm a graduating senior. I even passed government. No more Friday night football games and parties — no more sock hops in the gym. All that is left behind me in good memories. As I leave GHS, I want my parents to be proud of me. I want them to know that I have my own purpose and I'm looking forward to my future. The time has come for me to make a life for myself. Tonight is not the end, but only the beginning part of the long and winding road.

Graduation . . . I've dreamed about this day for so long, and now it's finally here . . . Well, I guess the reality of it all is just a little overwhelming. I can't stop thinking about the past — the Friday night games we cheered at, the Homecoming floats we struggled to build, the rap sessions at the torch, asking that cute guy to dance at the first Howdy Hop — and just laughing and talking with friends — now it's all over. As I look around at the faces of my classmates, some that I've known all my life, I can't help but wonder if the friendships that mean so much to me tonight will last. We're all going to different colleges — some so far away from Glendora. Will we still have the same things in common? Will we still be able to talk and laugh like we have these past years? I guess with each new phase of life you have to give up a part of the past, but you can never give away the memories. You know, I had always looked at Graduation as being the end of an experience, but tonight I realize it's really a new beginning. I'm excited about the future — I want to live each day of it to its fullest! I may never pass this way again, so with one last glance behind me, I must move on and follow my own road.

ONE WAY

Looking toward an unknown future . . . Anxious for graduation and what lies ahead . . . Leaving behind many friends and memories . . . The last game, the last dance, the last assembly . . . The Senior class of '78 . . . Young adults — independent, self-reliant, and free — products of a fast-moving, changing society.

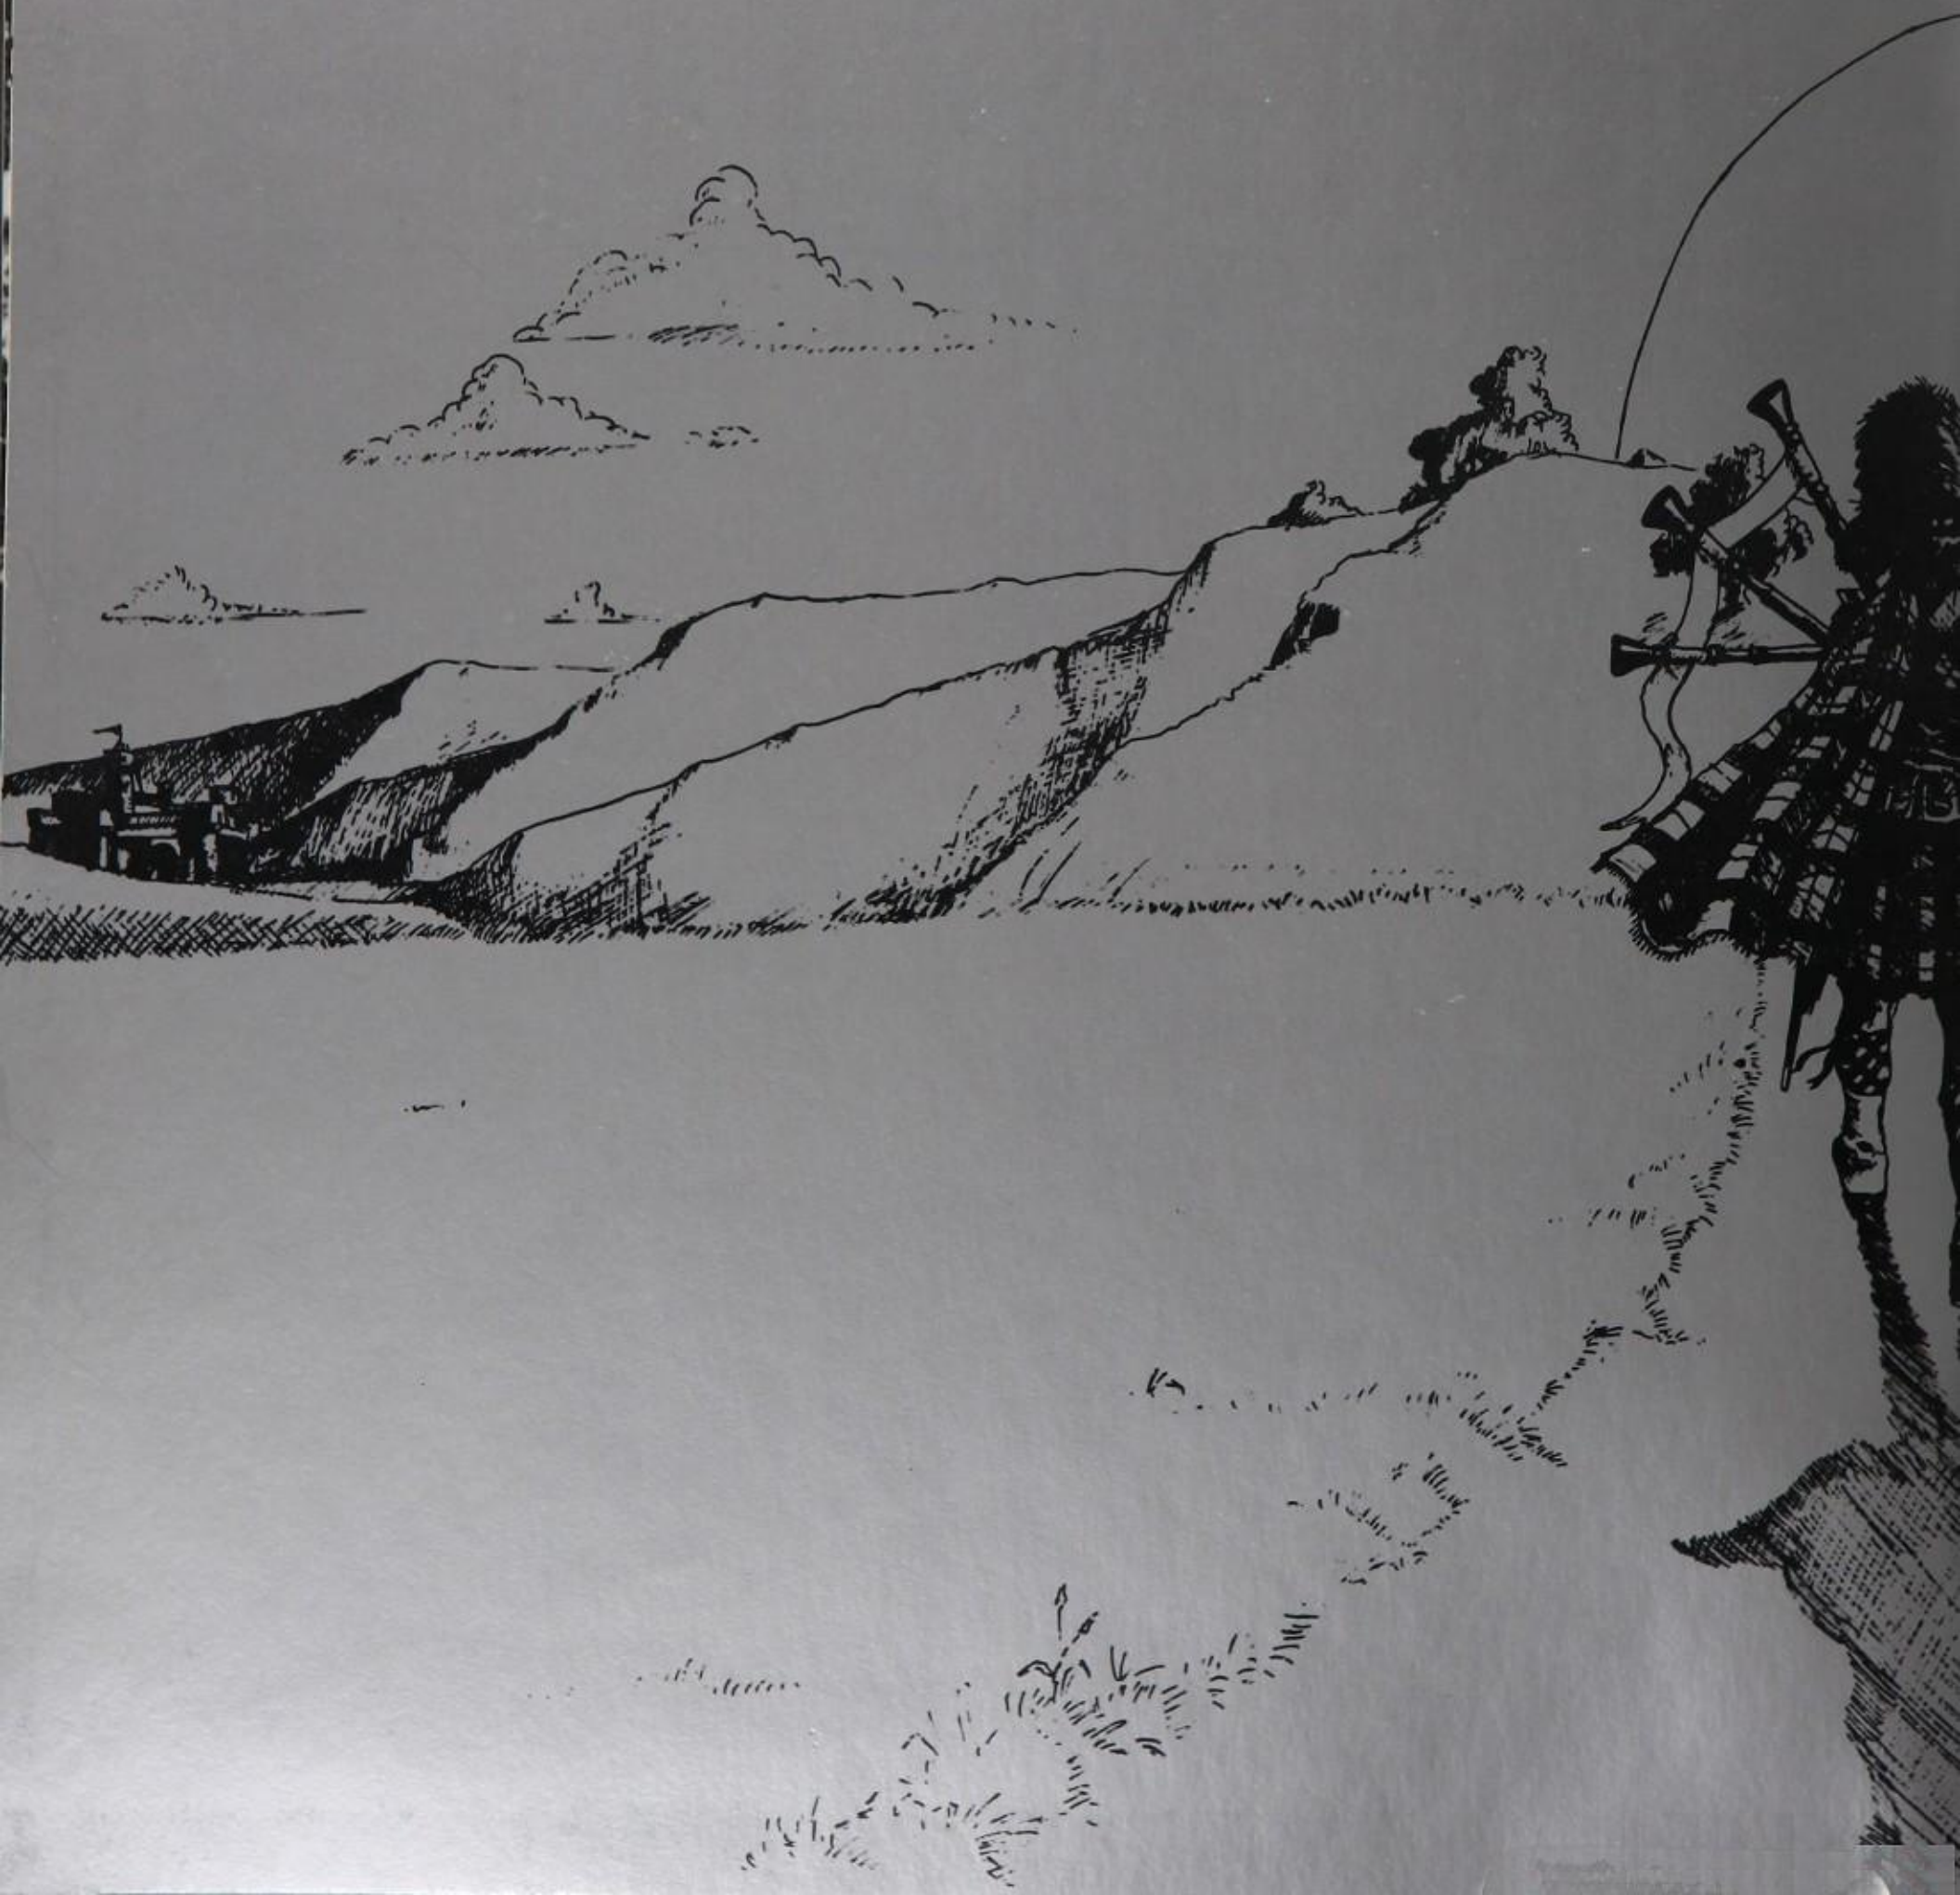

High school is a time of realization and discovery of one's own feelings and emotions . . . a time to establish our values and beliefs, especially the belief in ourselves. Parents, teachers and friends all have influenced us in different ways, but from now on all our decisions must be our own. Years from now, perhaps an old photograph, a song on the radio, a tucked away class ring or maybe the discovery of a souvenir dance ticket assumed lost, will momentarily bring back forgotten dreams and hopes, and we will wonder if all our decisions were the right ones. We'll remember the crazy things . . . the creation of T.H.E.M., Revolutionaries vs. Tories with Mr. Saunders, Mr. Booth's boots, Mrs. Tefft's hats, Dr. Bolton's open book — open neighbor finals, the many car rallies, the fads of '78, Steve Martin, Bee Gees, Beatlemania, and, of course, the ever popular hangouts of Fosters, Taco Bell and GMR.

But most of all, we'll never forget the thrill of achievement and success we all experienced in our own way . . . soccer going all the way to GLE, the Band and Drill Team going to Scotland and participating in the Rose Parade, playing or cheering for the crowd in a packed football stadium, earning an "A" on your first term paper, passing one of Mrs. Zastrow's essay tests, finding a best friend you can always trust . . . each one of us has grown from these accomplishments and many others. The Sophomores class has two more years to collect memories, the Juniors only one. But as Seniors, our collection is full and we must move on to face a new tomorrow, always living for today, but never forgetting yesterday . . . always following that long, winding road that leads us to our eventual destinies.
